DID SHE KILL ALL OF THEM?

Chicago Police Investigating Into Deaths of Mrs. Louise Vermilya's Relatives.

NINE DEATHS ARE IN LIST

And She And Her Sister, Living in the House Adjoining Suddenly Become Ill—She Insists That She is Innocent

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Chicago police today pursued their investigations into the deaths of nearly half a score of relatives and acquaintances of Mrs. Louise Vermilya to make certain whether the similar demises constituted only a remarkable series of co-incidences as Mrs. Vermilia asserts.

Nine deaths are included in the list with which Mrs. Vermilyas name was been connected, including two husbands, two step children, three children and two roomers at boarding houses she kept. Developments today following the establishment of police surveillance at the woman's home, came from several cities where she had lived. Pending the reports of toxologists who are examining the stomachs of the last persons who died here, the police have made no arrests. No positive evidence of crime has been uncovered.

The following new facts became known today:

That while Mrs. Vermilya has said one of the death roster, Richard T. Smith, a conductor ,was only a boarder at her home, a former roomer asserts the two claimed previously to have been married and that they lived together as man and wife.

That while the woman told the police she had assisted an undertaker at Crystal Lake, a former home, in embalming bodies, the undertaker testifies she never had any such experience. She gave this as a reason why she could discuss the deaths with composure.

That R. N. Bruington, a photographer of Peoria, and brother-in-law of Conductor Smith, had made love to the widow following Smith's death so as to investigate suspicion, he then had about the reason for his relative's demise; that the widow had told him part of her matrimonial history, which he desires to give to the coroner.

That Smith died during convulsions and after drinking some substance, whether medicine or not being unsettled, but that the doctors gave the cause of death from descriptions of symptoms given by the widow, as acute gastritis.

In a talk with the police of Peoria, Bruington said Mrs. Vermilya had periods of mental depression in which she was fond of talking of death. He said: "She told me it seemed funny to her that nearly every one she knew well and cared for died, and asked me if I was afraid of death."

A new co-incidence developed today following the sudden illness of Mrs. Vermilya herself, when a sister, living in the house adjoining Mrs. Mary Buchnolz, suddenly became ill.

Mrs. Vermilya told inquirers today she had not studied medicine, nor sought to become a nurse, as had been reported, but that she had some little knowledge of medicines that she had acquired to enable her to aid neighbors and relatives. She insisted she was innocent.

The death being looked into now are:

Frederick Brinkamp, first husband of Mrs. Vermilya, died on a farm near Barrington, Ill., after a brief illness.

Charles Vermilya, second husband, died after six days' illness of "gastritis," at Maplewood, Ill.

Florence Brinkamp, four-year-old daughter, died at Barrington.

Cora Brinkamp, eight-year-old daughter, died at Barrington.

Harry G. Vermilya, step-son, 35 years old.

Lillian Brinkamp, step-daughter, 26 years old.

Frank Brinkamp, son, died of pneumonia in Chicago.

Richard T. Smith, reported to be third husband.

Arthur Bissonette, policeman, a roomer to whom she was engaged, died of "gastritis" last Thursday.

That two conductors who had worked with Smith in the railroad told the coroner Smith had told them he was living with Mrs. Vermilya, though not married to her and that he had been threatened with death by another suitor of the widow, an undertaker.

That Bissonette was really engaged to be married to Lydia Rivard, of Kankake; this was shown by the filing today of the policeman's will in which Miss Rivard was named as his fiancee. Mrs. Vermilya was a witness to the will and the police will endeavor to ascertain whether the widow had shown jealousy of the policeman's intended wife.

It was the suddenness of Bissonnett's death, coupled with the widow's statement that he was addicted to drink, whereas members of the police force had known him as an abstainer, that prompted the investigation and a determination to have the policeman's viscer examined.

Professor Walter Hains, poison expert, expects to report by Friday. The coroner today left for Barrington, Ill., a suburb, Mrs. Vermilya's former home, to investgate the deaths that occurred there.

CESSATION HOSTILITIES

Will Likely Follow Appointment of Premier in China—National Assembly Held Secret Session Yesterday.

Peking, Nov. 1.—The appointment of Yuan Shi Kai today as premier of China will be followed by a cessation of hostilities on the part of Imperialists and the opening of negotiations with Gen. Li Yuen Heng, leader of the revolutionists at Hankow.

An imperial edict providing for important administrative changes also accepts the resignation of the ministers, but until Yuan Shi Kai returns to Peking Prince Ching will continue to perform the duties of premier and the present cabinet will remain in office.

All the ministers attended a secret session of the National Assembly today, which, it is understood, practically agreed to the demands of the disaffected Lanchau troops. A member of the war board was appointed to confer with the troops and express the assembly's views.

The assembly also discussed the recent loan for which arrangements had been made by the Belgian and French syndicate. The ministers expected that the loan was needed for the purpose of carrying on effective operations. The assembly thought there was a good prospect of the termination of hostilities in which case the loan would not be necessary. It was finally decided to refer the matter by telegraph to Yuan Shi Kai.

The panic among the people of Peking which ensued after the issuance of the first imperial edict has been largely dispelled, and the newspapers are beginning to sum up the results of the 17 days' rebellion. The Daily News considers that the appointment of Yuan Shi Kai arranged the entire political complexion, restore peace, inspirit the people with confidence, command the respect of foreign countries and place the empire on a sound basis.

Reports received here state that Yunnan-Fu, Anking and several smaller cities in the provinces of Yunnan, Anhwei and Fukien have gone over to the revolutionists, but the soldiers in North China are avowedly awaiting the action of Yuan Shi Kai. The government troops and Shan Si rebels are encamped not far apart.

Apparently they do not intend to fight for the present at least.

HEARING SET FOR TODAY.

Democratic Leaders of Long Island Charged With Criminal Conspiracy.

New York, Nov. 1.—An information charging criminal conspiracy against four persons, among them the Democratic leaders of the two Long Island Boroughs of New York City, and a Democratic candidate for the Supreme Court bench, was filed late today by Assistant District Attorney William DeFord, of New York county. The conspiracy is charged in connection with the nomination of William Willett as a Democratic candidate for Supreme Justice for the judicial district, comprising Long Island and Staten Island.

Willett is the first named in the information and the charges are also directed against John McCooey, who succeeded the late Patrick McCarren as Democratic leader of Kings county (Brooklyn borough); Joseph Cassidy, leader of Queens county, and Louis T. Walters, Jr., who nominated Willett at the Democratic convention.

A hearing was set for tomorrow in the Queens county court house. The alleged conspiracy, according to the information, is one of promoting or procuring the nomination of Willett "upon the payment of a sum of money" by the candidate.

The information alleges in effect that through the promises of payment of money by Willett, McCooey and Cassidy swung the vote which they controlled to Willett for the nomination.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.

Richmond Firm Captures Big North Carolina Contract.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1.—The contract for the erection of the fire-proof State building to face the south side of Capitol Square, was awarded by the State Building Commission here tonight to the Jno. T. Wilson Co., Richmond, Va., for $197,000. The building will be four stories, the walls of Indiana limestone, reinforced with inner walls of brick and with reinforced concrete floors, all of fire-proof construction.

The Jno. T. Wilson Co., built the Watts Hospital, at Durham; the Virginia Trust Co., building and Thalheimer building, Richmond, and was represented here by Mr. Wilson and E. G. Holladay.

Hon. Ashley Horne is chairman and W. E. Springer, of Wilmington, secretary of the Building Commission.

CHANCERY COURT DECLINES

Will Not Appoint Receivers for the United Order of True Reformers

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—In the Chancery Court of this city today, Judge Daniel Grinnan, declined to appoint receivers for the United Order of True Reformers, the largest colored fraternal society in existence. The residents of the negro sections of Richmond are parading the streets tonight and holding ceelbrations. The order has many thousands of members in all Southern States, and is especially strong in Washington as well as in Virginia. It got into difficulties through the failure of the True Reformers Bank, which was operated as a branch enterprise. Many of the former officers are under indictment.

SAID HE'D SAIL BOAT INTO HELL

Rev. Frank W. Sanford, Leader of Holy Ghost Society, of Shiloh.

IS UNDER $10,000 BOND

Charged With Causing the Death of Charles Hughey by Failing to Provide Sufficient Food on Yacht Coronet

Portland, Maine, Nov. 1.—The Rev. Frank W. Sandford, leader of the Holy Ghost and Us Society of Shiloh, was held at a preliminary hearing today for trial before the December term of the United States Court on a charge of causing the death of Charles Hughey on board the yacht Coronet by failing to provide proper and sufficient food when the yacht put to sea. United States Commissioner Bradley placed the bond at $10,000 which was furnished and Sandford was released.

An interesting and unexpected feature of the hearing was the introduction of the Shuoh creed. One portion, relating to the leadership, read: "I believe that Rev. Frank W. Sandford, of Shiloh, Maine, tells the truth when he makes proclamation that God said unto him, 'Elijah is here, testify," and again, 'I have found David,' words spoken as applying to him personally, I believe in and accept him as such."

Robert McKay, first mate of the Kingdom, before she was wrecked, testified that after the disaster her masts were cut away and the vessel was set on fire. Sandford, he said, declared the Kingdom was a burnt offering for Africa.

Dr. Charles E. Banks, of the marine hospital, testified that Charles Hughey, as well as John Bolster, another follower of Sandford, died of starvation, complicated with scurvy.

That the Rev. Sandford prayed for the deck of his yacht Coronet to become a slaughter house should his people disobey him, was another feature of the testimony. Captain Roland Whittom, a former sailing master of the Shiloh yacht, who testified to that effect, also declared that Sandford feared to enter port. "How can we make port with these traitors on board," was one remark made by the Modern Elijah, when several of his people became disaffected, the witness said. Captain Whittom further declared that Sandford had said he "would sail the Coronet into hell" if he had received divine instructions to that effect.

CONFIDENCE UNSHAKEN.

Violet Edmonds' Family Still Believe That Rev. Richeson is Innocent.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 1.—After he had been formally served with the indictment charging him with poisoning his former sweetheart, Avis Linnell, the Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson was visited in Charles street jail late today by Attorney John D. Lee, of Lynchburg, Va., a criminal lawyer prominent in the South, who probably will direct the accused minister's fight for acquittal. Mr. Lee arrived here today, but he took up immediately the work of preparing the defense and conferred at length with former Judge James R. Dunbar, his son, Philip R. Dunbar, and Congressman Robert O. Harris, who have been retained in Mr. Richeson's interest.

Reports that the family of Miss Violet Edmands, the wealthy fiancee of the accused clergyman, had decided to discontinue financial support of the minister's defense, were scouted by Attorney Dunbar, who was retained by Moses G. Edmands, father of the young woman. Mr. Dunbar said: "Any statement that Mr. Edmands has ceased to have faith in Mr. Richeson is absolutely false. Mr. Edmands still retains absolute confidence in the integrity and innocence of Mr. Richeson."

ROBERT A. TAFT BRIGHTEST.

Son of the President is Among the Four Brightest in Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 1.—The four brightest men in Harvard University law school as determined by the award of the Sears prizes, announcement of which was made tonight, are Robert A. Taft, son of the President; Charles E. Hughes, Jr., son of Justice Hughes, of the United States Supreme Court; J. C. Buchanan, of Pittsburg, and F. S. Wyner, of Boston.

The prizes, which are of $375 each, are awarded annually to four students in the school who have done the most brilliant work in their class during the year.

MEETING OF DIRECTORS

Of the American Tobacco Co., Held in New York Yesterday

New York, Nov. 1.—The directors of the American Tobacco Company met today and adjourned without taking any action on the common stock dividend. It was the regular date for declaring a quarterly return to shareholders, but no disbursement had been expected at this time.

At the last previous quarterly meeting the dividend was postponed and the directors announced that no payments would be declared until the will of the United States Circuit Court was known regarding the plan of re-organization.

PUBLISHER'S BODY BURIED

Remains of Joseph Pulitzer, Editor of the New York World, Laid to Rest in Woodlawn Cemetery Yesterday

New York, Nov. 1.—The funeral of Joseph Pulitzer, owner and publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was held today in St. Thomas Episcopal church, whose rector, the Rev. Ernest M. Stirrs, conducted the service. The burial was at Woodlawn cemetery. Tribute to the memory of the dead publisher was marked by the attendance of many noted men in all walks of life—editors and publishers, bankers and men of affairs—who mingled with employes of the World and personal friends of the deceased. Thousands of persons lined Fifth avenue as the funeral cortege passed.

The body of Mr. Pulitzer, who died Sunday on board his yacht "Liberty," at Charleston, S. C., lay in state until the funeral here at the family home in East 73rd street where hundreds of intimate friends and business associates called to pay their respects Throughout the day numerous expressions of sympathy were received by members of Mr. Pulitzer's family. Among those who sent messages of condolence were: Clarence H. Mackay, Henry Watterson, Whitelaw Reid, Charles Warren Fairbanks, Lord North Cliffe, Melville E. Stone, Edward L. Pretorious, editor of the Westliche Post, whose father, Emil Pretorious, gave Mr. Pulitzer his first employment as a newspaper reporter, and numbers of men in official and business life in America and abroad.

St. Thomas church was banked with floral tributes. One floral offering which stood out in the huge bank at the chancel rail was a wreath in the form of a life preserver sent from the captain and crew of Mr. Pulitzer's yacht on which he spent much of the latter part of his life.

At the church the larger portion of the pews were reserved for members of the family, personal friends and employes of the world. Another portion was reserved for members of the Publishers' Association of New York, who attended in a body. Honorary pall-bearers were: Nicholas Murray Butler, Louis L. Clark, Colonel Geo. Harvey, General John B. Henderson, Frederick N. Judson, Seth Low, St. Clair McKelway, Dr. James W. McLane, George L. Rivers and J. Augus Shaw.

For five minutes at the funeral hour, all activity in the offices of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch was stilled.

WILL GO TO CINCINNATI.

President Taft Will Have to Appear Before Election Board.

Columbus, O., Nov. 1.—President Taft will have to appear before the Cincinnati election board in person on either next Saturday or Monday and establish the claim that he was unable to be in the city on registration days before be can vote in the election next week. This was the substance of the official ruling made by Secretary of State Charles E. Graves, today.

Rome, Nov. 1.—It is stated that the Pope intends to create Archbishop De-Almaraz, of Seville, a Cardinal. Thus the foreign and Italian cardinals will be almost equal in number. The probability of the election of a foreign Pope is increasing and the chances are said to favor America.

REVIEW PLEASES SECRETARY MEYER

Inspected the Ninety-Nine Fighting Ships on Hudson Yesterday.

SATISFIED WITH HIS VIEW

Although He Knows the Showing Will be Much Better for the President.—200,000 Persons Line the Shores.

New York, Nov. 1.—"The fleet has demonstrated its preparedness for any emergency and has shown the effectiveness of the present organization.

George L. Meyer, Secretary of the Navy, smiled as he made this statement this evening on board the Presidential yacht Mayflower, after having inspected 99 fighting ships of the Atlantic fleet assembled in the Hudson river for the greatest mobilization in the history of the American navy. President Taft will review the fleet tomorrow as it passes out to sea and the Palisades and the shores of the Hudson will echo back a greater number of salutes than was accorded the secretary today, but notwithstanding the more spectacular event to come, Mr. Meyer says that he is satisfied with what he saw today.

Leaving the Mayflower in an admiral's launch, after having received on board Rear Admiral Osterhaus, the commander-in-chief, and the division commanders, the secretary paid visits to the flagships standing erect in a launch, a silk hat firm and a frock coat flapping as he sped from ship to ship in the face of a 20-mile nor' by nor'west wind. The Mayflower fired a salute of 19 guns as he left her sides and this salute was repeated by each of the seven flagships that he boarded beginning with the Connecticut and ending with the little Dixie tender of the torpedo fleet.

His calls completed, the secretary re-boarded the Mayflower which had steamed to the upper end of the seven miles of warships and passed slowly southward along the entire line, each ship saluting 19 times as he passed.

The echoes roared back from the New York shore after an interval so long that it seemed as if a second bombardment were going on in the streets of Harlem. It was 5:10 P. M. when he had re-passed the Connecticut on his return trip, marking the end of the day's formalities.

Members of the House Committee on Naval Affairs followed the secretary on his visits to each flagship and were honored with a salute of 17 guns. They, too, were gratified with the apparent efficiency and preparedness of the fleet and hope was expressed that Congress might see fit to create the position of vice admiral.

"The rank of the commander-in-chief should be commensurate with his great responsibilities," said Secretary Meyer. "And it is due his position that he should have the rank of vice admiral."

Rear Admirals Wainwright, Vreeland, Potter and Fletcher, acting as the secretary's aides, endorsed this expression and hoped also that the position of vice admiral would be created.

"This mobilization has also demonstrated," said Secretary Meyer, "that for our reserve fleet we should have a greater number of enlisted men. I have anticipated this in part by asking for 2,000 more men in this year's estimates which have now gone to the Treasury Department. These estimates provide for the maintenance and adoption of these men, but they are no larger than those of last year."

Besides the Congressmen and other prominent men aboard the Mayflower this afternoon attaches of four foreign Nations were present. They were Capt. C. F. G. Sowerby, of England; Commander Reitzmann, of Germany; Commander Tokutaro Hiraga, of Japan, and Commander Vassilieff, of Russia. There were also present Senators Root and O'Gorman, of New York; Mayor Gaynor, Attorney General Wickersham, Secretary of the Interior Fisher and others. The two latter accompanied Mr. Meyer on his visits to the flagships.

Two slim nosed destroyers, painted green, patrolled the course during the inspection and there was no untoward incident throughout. About 200,000 persons witnessed the spectacle from the New York shore and gaily decked harbor craft bore other thousands up and down the line.

DUKE'S FATHER-IN-LAW.

Must Serve Time on Roads in Durham—His Appeal.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Nov. 1.—The Supreme Court today handed down an opinion in the case of State vs. Leander S. Rochelle, of this city, convicted of retailing. Rochelle was caught in the big raid here April last when 60 blind tigers were captured by the detectives. He was tried in the recorder's court and Judge R. H. Sykes sentenced him to six months on the roads. He appealed to Superior Court and was again sentenced to six months on the roads. He appealed to the Supreme Court and the opinion was handed down today with no error and Rochelle will have to serve his six months on the roads. He is the father-in-law of Brodie L. Duke.

PRESIDENT IN WASHINGTON

After Two Months' Trip—Has Traveled 15,000 Miles, Visiting 26 States—Off to New York the Same Night.

Washington, Nov. 1.—President Taft got back to Washington tonight after an absence of two months. It was just 71 days ago that the special session of Congress came to an end that Mr. Taft left for Beverly, the Summer White House. In the time he has been away the President has traveled counting side trips almost 15,000 miles and has visited 26 States. Although many important appointments are to be made and although he has his annual message to Congress yet to write, Mr. Taft had no opportunity to take executive business here tonight. He came to Washington by special train from Morganton, W. Va., where he participated in the inauguration of Thomas Hodges, president of the University of West Virginia. Governor Glasscock and his staff, former Senator Davis Elkins and other West Virginia Republican leaders boarded the Presidential train and welcomed the President to the State.

At Morgantown the President spoke to several thousand school children and later repeated his peace and arbitration address to the students of the University.

Leaving Washington late tonight the President is due in New York early tomorrow, where he will board the Mayflower and review the big battleship fleet now in New York harbor. From New York he goes to Hot Springs, Va., for a four day rest, and then he will "take the road" again for a trip to Cincinnati, and several cities in Kentucky and Tennessee. As now planned this trip will end at Washington November 21st.

WILL NOT DISSOLVE YET.

The Peabody Educational Fund Board Will Live Another Year.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Peabody Education Fund board will not be dissolved nor the remaining funds distributed for another year at least. This was decided at a meeting of the board of trustees held here. At last year's meeting it was intimated that the present year might be the last in the board's history, but the unanimous decision today was to wait at least another 12 months before disbanding.

The Peabody fund of $3,500,000 was donated by George Peabody to promote education in the South. Samuel A. Green, secretary for the board, in a statement made after the meeting, alluded to the action taken and to the present status of the fund.

In 1897 we could have distributed the principal, according to the original understanding and wishes of Mr. Peabody, he said. "We at that time decided that it was hardly advisable, in the best interests of the fund, to draw on the principal, and so refrained from so doing. Last year we donated $1,000,000 to the establishment of the 'George Peabody college for teachers,' at Nashville, Tenn., thus diminishing our fund to just $1,500,000.

"It is quite likely—I might say quite probable—that we will next year decide to disband, and then give away the whole fund. We will then distribute the money among 11 of the remaining Southern States. Tennessee has already received the lion's share, and I doubt if any more will be allotted within that State."

BUFFALO BILL RETIRES

Will Shoot Ashes from Cigars No More Before Public

Richmond, Nov. 1.—Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill to all the world), retired from public life tonight. His show was packed off to Winter quarters and his Indians will return to their tepees in what is left of the red man's land, while Buffalo Bill intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn where he helped make American history. So far as public exhibitions are concerned he has shot the ashes from the last cigar and chased the last Indian.

During a career which began as a pony express rider, led him through more Indian battles than any other living white man and included 28 years as a show man, Colonel Cody became known as one of the most picturesque figures of American frontier life.

The sobrique 'Buffalo Bill" he earned in the early sixties when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers on the building of the Kansas Pacific Railroad and in less than 18 months he killed 4,280 bison.

INDIGNATION IS CAUSED IN ITALY

By Reports of Cruelty Against Turks and Arabs in the Late War.

REPORTS OFFICIALLY DENIED

Premier Giolitt Says That Their Soldiers Have Been Trained in the School of Loyalty and Uprightness.

Rome, Nov. 1.—The reports which have been spread in foreign countries that the Italian troops at Tripoli have practiced extreme cruelty in the war against the Turks and Arabs, killing women and children, the aged and infirm and non-combatants, have caused intense indignation throughout Italy. The reports have already been officially denied, but Premier Giolitti took occasion again today to emphasize the denial and to make a statement in behalf of the government and Nation.

"If any reproach is admissible," he said, "it can only be on account of excess of humanitarianism. We have, perhaps, through exaggerated scruples, spared the lives and property of the enemy, and, in so doing, have exposed ourselves to grave risks. This, however, we have been pleased to do to prove that we are civilized and human. Perhaps what is the bounty of the strong may be judged as weakness.

"Our soldiers, trained in the school of loyalty and accustomed to the uprightness of the Abyssinians, who are open enemies or steadfast friends, did not expect that the Arabs, after they had sworn fealty and received grain and flour and other concessions, would treacherously break their oaths and traitorously turn their arms upon the wounded. Among those heroic dead many were barbarously killed by the enemy after they had fallen gravely wounded.

"He who asserts that the Italian soldier would offend woman or child shows ignorance of our country and race.

"The acts of treachery were due partly to the efforts of Bedouins, about 15,000 of whom migrate at this season of the year from the interior to the coast for the date crop. They formed a kind of conspiracy with the Turks and succeeded in persuading the Arabs, who had already declared themselves our friends, to rebel. But indeed, the Arabs were ready to take up arms against those they considered weak at any moment. This is shown by the fact that many of the habitations, when set on fire, exploded like powder magazines, so great were the quantities of arms and ammunition hidden in them.

"After the betrayal, when the Arabs hidden by the trees, walls and houses, in the oasis shot in the back the troops courageously fighting the Turks, our soldiers defended themselves. They attacked the oasis and routed the traitors, killing those caught in the act of firing and taking the others prisoners. For safety we transported the prisoners to Tremiti and Ustica islands, where, on their own admission, outside of the curtailment of their liberty, they are better treated than in their own country.

"The oasis within our own lines after the population had been removed out of harm's way, was rendered useless as a cover for the enemy. The trees and walls, and in fact, everything which might afford a shelter for the Arabs to appeal to their treachery, were destroyed. In no report has Gen. Caneva made any allusion to women and children killed. There is, instead, proof of unheard cruelty to our wounded. Many were barbarously knifed, being killed while lying wounded and unable to defend themselves. Besides the ocular testimony this is proven by the fact that while the normal proportion between the wounded and dead in battle is one to two, then Turks having about 2,000 killed and 4,000 wounded, our dead numbered 374 and wounded only 158.

"In open attacks in ambushes and also in time of treason, the courage and humanitarian sentiments of the Italian army and navy are above praise, always admired, they render this war an example of generous and chivalrous civilization."

RIVALS EXCHANGE BEST WISHES.

Aviators Rodgers and Clark Meet at Tucson, Ariz., Yesterday.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 1.—Swooping down at 1 o'clock today, Aviator C. P. Rodgers, now on the last stages of his coast-to-coast flight, was greeted here by his rival, Robert G. Fowler, who is attempting to make the transcontinental flight from West to East, and who has been held here since Monday for repairs to his machine.

Fowler, who had been watching for his rival's appearance through the big telescope in the observatory of the University of Arizona, was the first to greet Rodgers as the latter stepped from his machine.

The rivals exchanged their best wishes for each other's success and Fowler hurried away to push the repairs on his machine. Rodgers took on a supply of gasoline and overhauled his machine, leaving at 2:25 o'clock for Phoenix, 110 miles away.

Rodgers started today's flight at Willcox, Ariz., 85 miles east of here, at 11:05 A. M., making the distance in an hour and 55 minutes.

...rk, Nov. 1.—United States ... Henkel was in a cheerful ... this evening after a round of ... serving during the day upon ...ent financiers and men of af... named as defendants in the gov... suit against the United States Steel Corporation. The marshal seemed particularly pleased as he exhibited a trophy in the shape of an autographed photograph. It bore the words: "Compliments of Andrew Carnegie."

"Yes sir," said the marshal, "Mr. Carnegie gave me that today. I went to his house to serve him with the subpoena. When my card was sent in Mr. Carnegie sent word right back for me to come in. He was just as pleasant as counld be and asked me to sit down. He showed me this picture and asked me if I would like one. I told him I would if he would sign it and he did."

The marshal had communicated with J. P. Morgan and had informed him that he would be around to see him before Mr. Morgan left for his business. The financier was waiting for the marshal in his library. He took the subpoena after a cheery good morning.

The marshal telephoned to John D. Rockefeller that he would be up to see him within a day or so with the subpoena.

"And what do you think he said?" asked the marshal. "He said 'I will be glad to see you' and that is a fact."

Subpoenas have also been served upon Charles Steele, James Gayley-Edmund C. Converse, Daniel G. Reid, Norman B. Ream, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., James N. Hill, E. H. Gary, the United States Steel Corporation, Federal Steel Company, Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines and the Union Steel Company.

KILLS TWO HUNTERS.

Thinks He was Firing at Deer Coming Down Unused Road.

Mays Landing, N. J., Nov. 1.—Eager to have a shot at a deer which he supposed was coming down an unused road in the gloom of the early dawn today, Charles Norcross, of Iowa, N. J., fired into a party of four other hunters, killing two and seriously wounding a third. The dead are Conrad Steelman, 28 years old, of Pleasantville, N. J., and John Yost, 32 years old, of Pleasantville, and the injured man is William Jarvis, of Pleasantville.

Norcross is in the Atlantic county jail here awaiting the action of the coroner. He is badly broken up over his fatal mistake.

According to Norcross' statement made to a justice of the peace at Minotola, he was standing behind some underbrush at the side of a road when he heard a noise. Not thinking that any other hunters were in the vicinity and believing that the sound came from a deer walking down the road, Norcross says he raised his gun and fired one barrel of buckshot in the direction of the noise. Before he could lower his gun, there was a shriek, and jumping out of the underbrush he was horrified to see three men lying in the road. Realizing in an instant the terrible mistake he had made, Norcross went after the other members of his party and the three injured men were placed in the automobile and rushed to Pleasantville. One of the victims died in six minutes and the other lived 25 minutes.

Norcross comes from a respectable family. He is said to be a man of good habits, is married and has two children. The victims were strangers to him.

PROMINENT MAN KILLED

Edgar H Farrar, Jr., of New Orleans, Shot in Pursuit of Robbers

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—Edgar H. Farrar, Jr., son of Edgar H. Farrar, former president of the American Bar Association, was shot and killed here today when he gave chase to two men who are alleged to have robbed the Farrar home last night. Leon Canton, alias J. C. Holmes, and Lucien Canton, brothers, aged 23 and 21, respectively, were captured after an exciting chase immediately after the shooting, are held by the police who state that the men confessed both to the robbery of the Farrar home and the killing of young Farrar. Mr. Farrar was on his way to his office in the Hibernia Bank building when two men at the intersection of Magnolia and Beniston streets were pointed out to him as the men who broke into the Farrar home. Mr. Farrar started in pursuit. One of the men fired at him and he fell to the street dead. Both men then dashed away. A crowd of citizens and mounted policemen immediately started in pursuit. Theophilus Rogers, a negro, captured Lucien Canton and Leno was taken into custody by the police a few minutes later.

The prisoners were taken before the district attorney who, according to the police, they confessed to the crime and admitted that they had robbed Farrar's home. Policemen visited the Canton home and found the articles stolen from the Farrar residence.

Edgar H. Farrar, Jr., was 32 years of age, and had been married only five months. He was a member of the law firm of which his father is the senior member.

TOXAWAY IMPROVEMENTS

Half a Million Dollars to Be Spent at Resort

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—It is learned here that E. H. Jennings, of Pittsburgh, now owner of the Toxaway Company property in the beautiful Sapphire country, contemplates the expenditure of more than a quarter of a million dollars for improvements at the resort this year and next. Mr. Jennings will have a sand-clay road built entirely around the lake, a distance of between 18 and 20 miles; lots will be laid off fronting the lake on which cottages will be erected; an electric plant having 300-horse capacity will be installed; a nine-hole golf course will be built while a tentative plan calls for an electric car service connecting the three hotels, Toxaway Inn, Fairfield and Sapphire. Fairfield is about 10 miles from Toxaway and Sapphire is one and one-half miles from Sapphire. The industrial development planned by Mr. Jennings means much for Transylvania county in which is located much of the Toxaway Company's property. A portion of the work of improvement has already begun.

AFTER THE LOAFERS

Mayor Smith and Chief Fowler Confer —Sunday Selling

Mayor Smith and Chief of Police Fowler held a conference yesterday morning with reference to the large number of negroes said to be loafing about the city, the idea being to hit upon some plan by which the negroes could be required to do less loafing and more work. In most cases the negroes do enough work to remove them from the vagrant class and this makes it all the harder to get at them. Chief Fowler informed the Mayor that he had been working on a plan for some time, but as yet nothing definite had come of it, although quite a number had been arrested and hailed into court on a charge of vagrancy. The result was the same is practically every case; the defendant was found not guilty because it was shown that he had worked some at intervals. However, it is believed that some way will be devised by which so much of the loafing among the colored people will soon be a thing of the past and that as a result labor will not be quite so scarce in the city.

The Mayor and the chief of police also conferred with regard to the alleged violations of the law against selling fruits, candies, etc., on Sunday. It does not appear to be the idea of the Mayor and the Council to shut up everything on Sunday, but there does seem to be a desire for a more general observance of the day in the city than has been the case for some months past. It is most likely that there will be less selling next Sunday than on any Sabbath in some time.

CARIED TO TRENTON. N. J.

Body of Young Joseph Ross Taken to Home City

The body of young Joseph D. Ross, who was killed in an accident on one of the logging roads of the Waccamaw Lumber Company near Bolton, on June 28th, was disinterred yesterday and last night it was taken to Trenton, N. J., the home of the deceased. Mr. Antonio Ross, father of the young man, and six of his former companions, accompanied the remains to Trenton.

Mr. Ross and his family have lived in Trenton for a number of years but the father and son had been operating in the South for some time prior to the accident The young man met his death along with three companions when the logging engine jumped the track and began bumping along the ties. A number of the men on the car jumped and four of them met death. The older Ross is a railroad contractor and a man of considerable means. While born in Italy he is a naturalized American citizen. His son was born in Trenton and was an American citizen by birth.

SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS.

Adjutant and Mrs. Mataxas Take Charge of Local Work.

Adjutant and Mrs. Mataxas arrived yesterday at noon from Savannah, Ga., where they have been stationed for some time, and today will take charge of the Salvation Army work in this city, succeeding Adjutant and Mrs. G. P. Williams, who leave on an early train this morning for Columbus, Ga., to which place they have been transferred. Adjutant and Mrs. Mataxas will be formally welcomed to the city at a meeting at the Salvation Army hall this evening at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited. The new officers will live at No. 701 South Second street, being the same residence that was occupied by Adjutant and Mrs. Williams. The departure of Adjutant and Mrs. Williams is regretted by many friends in this city, where they labored for about three years. Since they cannot remain here they carry with them to their new home the sincerest wishes of their many friends, and will extend a cordial welcome to the new officers.

She was in the 68th year of her age and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Russ, and one sister, Mrs. Maggie E. Oliver, of Relay, Va., who will have the sysmpathy of a great many friends in their bereavement. The funeral services will be held from the late residence at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

MOVE INTO NEW QUARTERS

Several Changes in Magistrates' Row ---Clerk in Court House

Justice George Harriss and Recorder John J. Furlong yesterday moved from their old office at No. 210 Princess to No. 206 Princess, the building just vacated by the D. R. Foster Realty Company, where they will have much better equipped and more modern quarters. Mr. Fred T. Skipper, clerk of the Recorder's court, who heretofore has had his desk in the same office, will hereafter be located in the upstairs clerk's office in the Court House.

Brooke G. Empie, Esq., will have the quarters vacated by Messrs. Harriss and Furlong fitted up and will have his law office there.

Funeral of Mrs. Cox.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie E. Cox, beloved wife of Mr. T. B. Cox, whose death occurred Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Finberg, No. 814 1-2 South Fifth street, was held from the late residence at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, conducted by Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. H. E. Beatty, pastor of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. There were many beautiful floral designs. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, and the pall-bearers were Messrs. C. Fore, D. Rountree, M. Jackson, T. G. Landen, Frank Cox, and Ed Capps.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—L. E. Johnson, president of the Norfolk & Western Railway, and president of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, today called upon the board of visitors to meet November 14th at Blacksburg to consider charges of vice among the students made by a member of the board.

BRISK BUILDING ACTIVITY

Chamber of Commerce Figures Reflect City's Prosperity

Statistics compiled by Secretary O. F. Cooper, of the Chamber of Commerce, show that between May and September, of this year, permits were issued for buildings in Wilmington and the immediate vicinity totalling the sum of $600,000 in valuation, a record that bespeaks well for the growth and expansion of the city.

The detailed statistics show a wide variety of buildings, either recently finished or now in the course of construction, including new business houses, churches, warehouses, garages, terminal facilities, extensions and many handsome modern residences. Had the figures for October been included it is probable that the total would have reached an even greater sum, for a number of the permits granted for that month are for buildings which will cost well into the thousands to complete.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The so-called Steel Trust investigating committee of the House of Representatives will resume its hearings in Washington on November 20th.

All Saints' Day Services.

Appropriate All Saints' Day services, commemorative of the departed, were held in the three Episcopal churches yesterday morning and large attendances featured each meeting. At the Church of the Good Shepherd at 7:30 o'clock the rector, Rev. Thos. P. Noe conducted the service and at St. James' Church at 11 o'clock he also officiated, in the absence of Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton, the rector. Special services were held at St. John's Episcopal Church at 10:30 in the morning, led by Rev. W. E. Cox, the rector. Large congregations attended each of the three services and partook of the Holy Communion, which is a feature of the day's services in the Episcopal Church.

Negro Cuts White Man.

It has been reported to police headquarters that Mr. W. H. Sneeden, a resident of Greenville Sound, was injured by a knife in the hands of Jeese Blount, colored, as the result of an altercation between the two men at the corner of 13th and Market streets Tuesday night. The injured man had his wound dressed at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, and later returned to his home. Blount has not been arrested yet.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

DEMOCRATS WILL WIN.

Is the Prediction for the Albany Election on Next Tuesday.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Predicting that the Democrats will win a decided victory at the polls next Tuesday, Governor Dix, in a statement today appeals to Democrats to support all the Democratic nominees as "Democratic success now means continued progress, efficiency and honesty in the administration." His statement in part reads:

"The splendid record made by the Democratic House of Representatives at Washington has won the confidence of the country while the Republican party cannot escape responsibility of the deplorable industrial and economic conditions under which the people of the United States are now suffering. Republican legislative and administrative policies have produced the very general and deep unrest and dissatisfaction in business circles which have caused great hardship among the people and generated an industrial and financial depression that has curtailed opportunities for employment and deprived the farmer, working man and business man alike of adequate and just remuneration for his energy, toil and investments.

"President Taft's veto to the tariff bill proves that he is lined up with the extreme protectionists of his party and that he is opposed to any revision of the tariff in the interests of the producing and consuming classes of the country."

POLICEMEN FATALLY WOUNDED

Unknown Negro With Revolvers Runs Amuck in New Orleans Yesterday

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—George A. Boussel and Joseph LaCoste, policemen, were fatally wounded and Joe Spencer, Washington Lawrence and John McGeavy, badly beaten up today, when an unknown negro armed with revolvers ran amuck on the Algiers ferry landing, across the Mississippi river from this city. The negro finally was killed by citizens who came to the assistance of the officers.

The shooting occurred just as the ferry reached the Algiers landing. Declaring that he would "get a d— white man," the negro fired five shots promiscuously, re-loading his pistol and, drawing a second one, started up the ferry landing firing right and left. Officers LaCoste and Roussell were shot through the body and nearby citizenes opened fire on the negro.

Without attempting to re-load his revolvers, the negro attacked bystanders with the butt end of his weapon and clubbed three before he fell dead, his body riddled with bulets.

SPEAKER CLARK ON TRUSTS

Says He is Not in Favor of Repealing Sherman Anti-Trust Law

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 1.—Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, is unalterably opposed to the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust law and is for its rigid enforcement. "I am not in favor of repealing the Sherman anti-trust law," said Speaker Clark to the Associated Press tonight. "Instead I would make it stronger. I would enforce it against all offenders, civil and criminal. The law is no respector of persons in theory and there is no reason why it should be so in practice.

"The law has been on the statute books for many years and if it had been properly enforced during the past decade there would have been no trusts in the United States."

Speaker Clark made an address here tonight and will go to Kansas City tomorrow.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever,—my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change." — Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial."—Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

WIFE POISONING CHARGED

Coroner's Jury Investigating Case at Whiteville—Body of Woman Exhumed and Viewed by Jurors—Attorneys.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 1.—The town and county is considerably exercised over the case of Mr. Edgar Thompson, whose wife died a week ago, four miles from this city, following which the family of the young woman made charges of wife poisoning against the husband.

Coroner Slade Smith reached Whiteville yesterday morning at the behest of relatives, convened a jury to inquire into the case, the husband having retained as his attorneys Messrs. Schulken, Toon & Schulken, I. B. Tucker and Lewis, Lyon & Greer. Appearing for the relatives of the deceased young wife are Messrs. Grady & Williamson, Donald MacRackan and Walter Powell, all of the local bar. Mr. MacRackan, representing the prosecution, at the opening of the inquest, read the law touching such cases and the attorneys for Thompson stated that they would welcome the inquest as a means of vindicating their client. It having been decided to exhume the body so that the jurors might view the same, the party took vehicles for the lonely graveyard four miles from town and the grave of a week was opened, the jurors viewed the body, after which the grave was again closed and the party returned to Whiteville.

After viewing the body, the coroner's jury met in the Court House to hear the testimony, the substance of which was as follows:

The attorneys representing Thompson did not put up any witnesses, relying on the innocence of their client, and they placed no obstacle in the way of a full investigation, and wanted an autopsy made, that their client might be vindicated. But the testimony of Dr. Smith, of Chadbourn, who attended on Mrs. Thompson and was in a position to best know the cause of her death, was decidedly favorable to the husband. He said the woman's death was natural and caused from an affection of the brain and not by poison.

Pinkney Bowen testified that his sister had been to see him a few days before she died, and that she told him then that her husband, Edgar Thompson, was threatening to kill her all the time, because of Emma Davis, who stayed in the house with them.

Dr. Crowell testified that he saw Mrs. Thompson soon after she died and that he could see some symptoms of poison, but that her death might have been caused by something else. He also said that her condition as described to him by those who saw it, might be symptoms of poison. He had visited her before, never saw her have a spell like this, never heard of her having heart trouble, but did think she was very nervous. She seemed to be very apprehensive, thinking somebody was going to kill or hurt her all the time. He stated that he did not know who it was called him to see Mrs. Thompson, but thought the message was from the Smith farm.

Mrs. Priscilla Bowen testified that Mrs. Edgar Thompson was her daughter and that she had been over to see her a week before she died, and told her about the threats her husband was making against her. She said that he said she would not be living one week from then, and that if she died suddenly or quick to please have her body examined by the county physician, for she wanted her to know whether she died honestly or not. She said she never had known her daughter to have these spells before and that she heard she was well and hearty that morning and that she picked cotton the day before. She saw her daughter just before she died, and her daughter told her then she wanted Dr. Smith, who, Edgar said, he got the medicine from, which he gave her; said she did not want any other doctor; she was in terrible agony. She seemed like she would jerk herself to death while she was dieing. She said she had never seen anybody in such a bad fix before. She told me that Emma Davis was the cause of the trouble with Edgar and her, and that they three had been on the beach together, Emma Davis, she and her husband, and that her husband, Edgar Thompson, paid Emma Davis more attention than he did her, his own wife. She said she knew Edgar was not good to her daughter lately.

R. B. Bowen said he heard Edgar say he gave his wife some medicine besides that which Dr. Smith prescribed and said the medicine was quinine and soda.

Gaston Spivey said he was present when she died and he helped hold her down. She was in a terrible fix; seemed to be jerking and suffering much. Said he heard of her having had spells before. They had sent for him and his wife at night to come over and he was with her during a spell she had before.

Macon Bowen said that the deceased was his sister and he saw her about a week before she died, and she told him her husband had threatened to kill her within a week's time and had made other threats against her. She told him to please have her body examined if she died suddenly, because she wanted them to know whether she died honestly or not. He said he heard she picked cotton the day before and cooked breakfast the morning she died. He never knew her to have trouble like this before. He knew her husband was not good to her, and Emma Davis was the cause of it. His sister had told him about her husband whipping her and he had seen the signs on her arm. He did not know about any medicine.

Mrs. Hasty said she saw Mrs. Thompson soon after death, but she did not notice her particularly, as all dead people looked alike to her. She said she heard something about medicine given to her, but don't remember whether it was Edgar talking to her and whether he said he gave it to her or not.

John Horn said Edgar Thompson said something about being put in jail if he came to Whiteville, but thought he was joking, for he was in a crowd and they all took it as a joke.

Melvin Thompson said seven lawyers had been employed to defend Edgar Thompson should it be necessary. They were retained Monday morning.

Dr. Brown said poison might have produced the position Mrs. Thompson was in but it could be produced by other diseases. He said the only way to find out was to have the stomach examined.

Dr. W. F. Smith's testimony was as to her condition before death. He stated she was very nervous and he thought it was nervous trouble. He gave her calomel and rheubarb on Tuesday before she died Wednesday. Dr. Smith stated that he thought an autopsy unnecessary.

After hearing the oral testimony of witnesses, the inquest was adjourned tonight for an autopsy which will be held tomorrow morning. The case is being watched with much interest and there is much speculation as to the outcome.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST

Sixty-seventh Session of State Convention at Ayden, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Ayden, N. C., Nov. 1.—The 67th session of the North Carolina State Convention of the Disciples of Christ met here Monday night with Vice President E. A. Moye, of Greenville, in the chair. The address of welcome was by W. O. Winfield, pastor of the Ayden church. D. W. Arnold, pastor of the church at Dunn, N. C., made the response. Mr. Arnold recently graduated at Bethany College, West Virginia, and is among the most eloquent preachers. The convention sermon was by C. W. Howard, of Kinston. He is a leading citizen of Lenoir county and was for several years superintendent of education there. His sermon was along the line of the duties of Disciples, exhorting them to even better work, although their numbers have doubled in 20 years. One of the most interesting speakers of the convention is J. H. Mohorter, of St. Louis, the general secretary of the National Benevolent Association. He gave an address on "A Larger Vision," saying he had traveled over all the States and Canada and was never more encouraged at the religious outlook and evidences of enlargement. Rev. A. Long, of Kansas City, has recently increased his personal gift to a great unsectarian hospital to $285,000 with free beds and treatment to all who are unable to pay. Larger things are in evidence everywhere.

Tuesday's sessions began with Bernard P. Smith, of the prosperous church in Winston, presiding. The quiet hour was deeply devotional. This was followed by a varied and practical discussion of "The Needs of the Rural Field." Jos. A. Sanders, of the Industrial Christian College, led and Messrs. Winfield, Mohorter, Spiegel, Rogers, Caldwell and several others made stirring talks. H. C. Bowen, of Wilmington, gave the closing address.

The Rev. Mr. Fulford, of the Episcopal church, and Mr. Peden, of the Free Will Baptist church, were in attendance and accepted the invitation to take part in the discussion. A most fraternal spirit is manifest on every hand and hospitality knows no bounds. The Free Will Baptist School is located in Ayden and Prof. Swarthout and others from Atlantic Christian College have accepted invitations to visit and speak in the chapel exercises. Ayden is one of the most prosperous towns on the Kinston branch of the A. C. L., and in the midst of a very fine farming section where cotton and tobacco and other crops grow in great abundance.

Tuesday afternoon the Christian Woman's Board of Missions held their business session. They were favored with the presence of their national secretary, Mrs. M. E. Harlan, of Indianapolis. She reported the largest results ever reached in missions at home and abroad. Miss Etta Nunn, the State secretary, made a fine report and was happy because of her own society in Newbern winning the banner.

Two great addresses were made at night by Mr. Mohorter and Secretary Booth, who told of the large loan fund nearly one million dollars being used in building churches.

ENGINEER CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Caught Under Norfolk-Southern Locomotive Near Roper, N. C.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., November 1. — A 'phone message was received in this city this afternoon, stating that Captain John Wilkins, formerly of this city, and employed by the Norfolk-Southern Railroad, as engineer, on a train between Columbia and Mackey's Ferry, met a horrible death about 12 o'clock today, whhn his engine turned turtle and throwing him out of the cab window, fell on him, literally crushing him to death. Wilkins, at the timt, was shifting cars near Roper, N. C., and the cause of the accident is unknown, but it is thought was due to the rails spreading. Wilkins was a young man of about 34 years of age, of good habits and highly respected. He leaves a widowed mother and several sisters.

Stops a Deep-Seated Cough in a Hurry

A Family Supply of Unequaled Cough Remedy for 50c—Money Refunded if It Fails.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large proportion of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one that anyone can make. A pint of granulated sugar, with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

A 50-cent bottle of Pinex, mixed in a pint bottle with home-made sugar syrup, gives you a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-mixed for $2.50. There's a clear saving of $2.00. Full directions in package.

And money couldn't buy a quicker, better remedy. Takes hold at once, gives almost instant relief, and usually stops the most obstinate, deep-seated cough in 24 hours. It stimulates the appetite, is slightly laxative and has a pleasant taste—children take it willingly. Splendid for hoarseness, asthma, chest pains and other throat troubles, and unequaled for prompt results in whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of imported Norway White Pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Simply mix it as directed with sugar syrup or strained honey, and it is ready for use.

Used in more homes in the U. S. and Canada than any other cough remedy.

Pinex has often been imitated, but never successfully, for nothing else will produce the same results. The genuine is guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. Certificate of guarantee is wrapped in each package. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A MOONSHINER'S DAUGHTER

Remarkable Story From Moore County—Marine Band at Raleigh—Tobacco Case—Other Affairs at Capital.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1.—Remarkable and well authenticated news comes from Carthage of the daughter of a Moore county blockader impersonating revenue raiders and cutting up and completely destroying the blockade distillery of her father while all the other members of the family were attending the recent Moore county fair at Carthage.

The father had long been mixed up with blockading, had several distilleries cut up but had never been actually implicated by revenue officers to the extent that he could be hailed into court on the charge. This grown daughter had often pleaded with the father in the inner circles of the family life to abandon his illegal work, but he persisted. At the time of the fair he was running a still and the daughter was in constant dread of the trouble and disgrace that would come of the head of the family being hailed into court and possibly to prison. She encouraged a plan for the entire family to go to Carthage for the county fair and then at the last minute insisted that there were insurmountable obstacles to her joining in the day's outing. While the family were away she took an axe and other needed implements and went to the blockade distillery and literally cut the whole equipment to pieces, still and all. The old man was given to understand when he returned that it was the work of revenue raiders and he is even congratulating himself that he made the Carthage trip as the revenuers might have caught him at the still had he not made the trip.

While President Jno. A. Mills and his associates in his railroad enterprises will neither confirm or deny the report, it is believed by many that there is a fine prospect now for a through railroad service to be established within the next year or so between Raleigh and Sparta. This can be accomplished by the building of 115 miles of new railroad, utilizing the present lines controlled by the Jno. A. Mills interests and adding to this through purchase the Durham & Charlotte railroad from Colon, Lee county, to Troy, Montgomery county, this deal being believed by many to be pending now. The Raleigh to Sparta line would be established by connecting lines, Raleigh to Troy, via Lillington. Then the Jones road, Thomasville to Winston-Salem, and thence to Yadkinville and Elkin, connecting with the Elkin-Sparta and Westward.

There is the keenest interest in the coming of the United States Marine Band as the first great attraction for the big new auditorium since the elaborate dedication ceremonies two weeks ago. The band, the greatest musical aggregation in the country, is headed by Lieut. William H. Santelmann, who has the degree of doctor of music from Washington University and is the possessor of a number of commemorative medals of meritorious service and as a director and composer of band music. Neighboring towns are arranging for special parties to come to Raleigh and take in the concert for which there will be ample room for all in the great auditorium.

After a hearing that continued for two days Police Justice Watson has decided to hold for the Superior Court in a bond of $500 Tom Morris, white man, who keeps a livery and feed stable here, on the charge of receiving 18 boxes of manufactured tobacco that were stolen from railroad cars here. It was tobacco that had been shipped to Raleigh from Brown & Williamson Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem. The tobacco had been hidden in the hay in Morris' stable and was hauled there by a negro who used a team belonging to Morris.

An especially notable feature of the observance of All Saints' day here was an address at St. Mary's College by Rt. Rev. Edward M. Parker, bishop coadjutor of New Hampshire, who is the guest of President George W. Lay, of St. Mary's. This was also Founders' day for this justly famous school for young women. And the programme had to do with this double observance—All Saints' and Founders' days.

"MY WORD"

Says Druggist R. R. Bellamy in Giving His Personal Guarantee to All Skin Sufferers.

I have been in business in this town for some time, and I am looking to build up trade by always advising my patrons right.

So when I tell you that I have found the eczema remedy and that I stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by myself, you can depend upon it that I give my advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because I know how it will help my business if I help my patrons.

I keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But I will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, I want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription. And if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again I have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

I have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and I want you to try it now on my positive no-pay guarantee.

STAR

Published by the
STAR COMPANY, INC.,
Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 3rd, 1874.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, $6 per year, $3 for six months, $1.50 for three months, 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Ordinary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, or if paid cash in advance a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper.

Advertisements discontinued before expiration of contracts are charged transient rates for time actually published. Payment for transient advertisements must be cash in advance. Contract advertisers will not be allowed to exceed their space at same rates, or advertise anything foreign to their regular business without extra charge. Advertisements to occupy special place will be charged for according to position desired.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Thursday, November 2, 1911.

Some men get all that is coming to them and keep on working to get the balance.

If it doesn't pay to produce cotton to sell at nine cents, how many farmers will grow 9 cent cotton next year?

The South had better raise something to eat at home, at cost, instead of producing cotton for Europe, at cost.

Atlanta's confidence in herself and the investment of Atlanta capital in Atlanta, is what has made that city. Long ago, Atlanta quit investing her money away from home.

President Taft is philosophical. He has traveled about 17,000 miles in the past several weeks, and he plainly intimated in Chicago a few days ago that the Republicans had better not count too sure on holding a torchlight procession in November, 1912.

Don't anybody be misled by the report that Wall Street will raise $5,000,000 to defeat President Taft next November. The Street never cuts off its nose to spite its face and never blows in its money on the other fellow's game. Wall Street would feel alarmed if it thought President Taft would be defeated in next year's election.

Major J. C. Hemphill, the distinguished editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, severed his connection with that paper yesterday and took his departure for Charlotte where he will assume his duties as editor of the Charlotte Observer. The Star welcomes the Major to the realm of North Carolina journalism and is glad that he is to be a Tar Heel editor and citizen. There is nothing "myth"-terious about his coming to North Carolina. He has come because he knows it is the genuine article.

Mr. John Armstrong Chaloner, the well known millionaire, has begun publication of his promised paper, and the Star is pleased to acknowledge receipt of the initial number. It's title is "The Confederacy and Solid South," and its place of publication is Roanoke Rapids, N. C., where Mr. Chaloner has large interests. The initial copy is a six-column journal of twelve pages, printed on book paper and presenting a decidedly neat typographic appearance. Mr. Chaloner's foreword is a unique salutatory, and from the very beginning he hoists the colors of the "Solid South", which he declares must remain so forever, "as it has heroically stood since its inception." He honors the memory of Confederate chieftains and soldiers, and the object of his paper is to preserve those "fragrant memories" and uphold religion, but he says those subjects will not be accorded so much space as will assaults on politics and Wall Street. Editor Chaloner writes fearlessly and peels off the bark in a classic and entertaining way, and as he is going to issue his paper quarterly, the Star will always look with interest for its appearance every three months.

A verdict against the Steel Trust, on the score that it acted in restraint of trade in gobbling up its only competitor, will make Col. Roosevelt wish he had kept silent instead of giving his consent for a trust to violate a law which he should have enforced. Roosevelt's loose idea of law was never more forcibly illustrated than when he nullified the Sherman act to favor the Steel Trust. Constitutions, laws and Supreme Courts are nothing when such an autocrat considers his edict sufficient to grant a trust immunity against an act of Congress. A verdict against the Steel Trust will convince Col. Roosevelt that his consent does not take precedence over the laws of the Republic.

LESSON FOR THE SOUTH

Our old friend Secretary Wilson is a great optimist and gloats over the immense productivity of this country. He loves to astonish the world and the natives with accounts of tremendous yields, including the fabulous production of the energetic American hen. We all love to hear about the hen and to be told about her contribution of millions of dollars to our national wealth, but the Secretary surely is "in bad" concerning his proud boast of a cotton crop of some 13,800,000 bales. He treads on sacred ground when he let up on the hen and got to blowing about cotton while the bears were listening. He is now getting the blame for 9 cent cotton, but we hardly think he had any idea the cotton producers were going to try to sell most of the crop in a lump, thus helping the bears, and then put the blame on him. He is really a fine man, except that he believes in figuring all over the blackboard at a moment when its psycological attribute is doubtful and fatal.

We are satisfied the Wilson family is all right, and that Woodrow Wilson will be the next President, to be nominated at Baltimore next year, but even if Secretary Wilson is no kin to him and has a different political faith, the Secretary is herein advised that when he figures on the cotton crop he should include all the figures. He should have told the world that we are likely to make 13,800,000 bales of cotton but that it would be dirt cheap at 15 cents a pound, with the probability that the South ought really to get 20 cents a pound on account of the trouble and expenses that it goes to in order to keep men from having only one shirt to their backs. He should have boasted that a 13,800,000-bale crop, at the very low and extremely reasonable price of 15 cents, was worth $1,035,000,000 at the lowest calculation. He should have proven to the world by figures that it needed 15,000,000 bales from South, and that if it got chinchy about the price, the South would cut down production and dole out 12,500,000 bales to it next year.

In the meantime, however, the South has learned a great lesson about raising cotton. On account of soil restoration, intensive farming and the reclamation of fertile swamp and alluvial lands in North Carolina, this country can produce 20,000,000 bales when it is needed, but we have learned that hereafter it will be a good idea to increase the crop very little at a time. In fact, producing cotton at about cost should emphasize what The Star has always advised—diversified agriculture. If we would plant 10,000,000 acres of our cotton lands in corn and make only 25 bushels per acre, it would produce 250,000,000 bushels which could be used to fatten hogs and cattle, enabling us to make our own bread and meat and produce butter and cheese enough to keep us from depending on other people to feed us.

Plenty of hogs and cattle would enable us to have packing houses, tanneries, and shoe factories, while we could have our own fertilizer resources right in our barnyards and stockyards. If we would only do the right thing, we could diversify and live high. The cattle industry would make the South a hide-producing country, and then we could start up tanneries and shoe factories. We ought to raise sheep and sell wool as well as cotton, and be able to have the best mutton in the world. We could raise grain and build up a milling industry and there are numerous other products which would keep us from getting in the hole on one crop, like the Western wheat growers do when they overdo the thing by planting all wheat, while depending on buying everything else.

A one crop people will always be in a strut till they quit it. If low price cotton will wake us up, and teach us to live at home, while raising a limited amount of cotton, it will prove a great blessing to the South. If we had planted one-third of our 35,000,000 cotton acreage in food products we would have made an independent living and still have more money for our cotton crop than we will have for this year's entire cotton crop. Wisdom comes from experience, and we have had a good dose of it this year Will we profit by it or continue to remain prostrate with the cottonitis?

LET THE GALLED JADES WINCE.

The attorneys general of North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia have not "butted in" so far as the government case against the tobacco monopoly is concerned. If those three States are not directly concerned in protecting their great tobacco industry, both as to production of leaf tobacco and the manufactured products, pray what States are concerned in seeing to it that the anti-trust laws are enforced so no interests may suffer?

The part which Attorneys General Bickett, Williams and Lyon have taken in the proceedings in New York, is evidence of a healthy initiative that should be a source of pride to the people of those three States. Supineness of the States and the people is what has gotten the country into the condition that capital for twenty years has defied the acts of Congress, the decisions of the courts, and the efforts of the Presidents of the Republic and the Governors of the sovereign States, bound by constitutions to protect the citizens of the Commonwealths and the Republic.

We believe in insurging when rights and principles are involved, and we make bold to declare that if the people would get off on their ear oftener, they would not have their rights ignored and treated with contempt, while, forsooth, their government presumes to tax them for the benefit of trusts and industrial combinations that develop into organized law breakers. We believe in showing your teeth when people try to run the hog over you, and we do not hesitate to say that we are one of the original signitories to the ancient Scottish motto, "Nemo me impune lacessit." That means the same thing as permitting no man to give you a kick without giving him as many as he gives you. People and States which tamely submit to imposition and humiliation are worthy of the veriest contempt.

We prefer to see people a little bit bumptious than to see them stand hitched and have the can tied to them. Every man in the country, unless he be a truckler and is disposed to "bend the knee that thrift may follow fawning," should rejoice that the Federal and State governments are determined to enforce their country's laws against all, big or little, who dare to violate them. We are not prepared to say how much ice the Southern attorneys general cut in the tobacco case, but we glory in their spunk for going up and putting in their oar. It is the very best sign that the spirit of the people is yet to be reckoned with in this country.

We would like to see the Tobacco Trust get a square deal and be protected in all its rights, while at the same time we insist that it shall respect the public's rights. It ought not to be a one-sided affair, but simply the laying down of a chalk line so both sides can toe it or take the consequences. We don't know which of the attorneys general started this thing of "butting in", but he should have a hero medal, while taunts and slurs should be considered as coming from the unthinking and the unthinkable. The impotency of those in authority and a deplorable lack of conviction on the part of public men is largely responsible for the present state of affairs in our country, and now that a determined effort is being made to vindicate the majesty of the law and assert the rights of the masses, no patriotic man can do else than approve and uphold the movement to put the bits in the mouth of law breakers.

Bickett and Williams and Lyon should treat with indifference and scorn the impotent howls set up on their trail. They may or may not have set the woods afire, but they have been on the firing line of duty. In the midst of weakish and maudlin taunts, they will hear a mighty popular chorus of bravos that will drown out the brays of the haltered nags. "Let the galled jades wince."

LIFE OF CARDINAL GIBBONS.

The Star acknowledges with more than usual pleasure a biographical work entitled the "Life of Cardinal Gibbons." The author is Allen S. Will, A. M., Litt.D., city editor of the Baltimore Sun, a man with the scholarly ability and general equipment that eminently fit him to be the biographer of the most eminent churchman in America. Mr. Will has done his work superbly and has produced a book replete with striking diction and full of intensely interesting events and incidents in the life of a Christian minister who is known all over the world as one of the greatest heirarchs of the Catholic church. The Baltimore author has produced his work in a style that is marked for its grace and characterized by a faculty that holds a reader's profound interest from the first to the last chapter. It is a work which is timely, for it were time that some such comprehensive sketch of the eminent Cardinal were forthcoming while he is yet with us, for even in his absence at his home in Baltimore or engaged in his episcopal work, the Cardinal's influence is felt, we might say daily, throughout the length and breadth of the land.

Mr. Will's subject alone would make a book worth reading, but it is not alone the distinguished personality and the gentlest of men that appeals to our interest and holds our attention, but it is an absorbingly entertaining and instructive narrative of a career that has been notable for the past fifty years and which has been specially conspicuous for the last quarter of a century. We esteem it a great honor to know Cardinal Gibbons personally, and it is a pleasure for us to write of his biography and to note the fine tribute paid to his great character and magnificent work, but it is all Wilmington that will come in for a share of the honor and pride in Mr. Will's sketch of the eminent churchman. This city esteems it a distinguished honor to have been the first episcopal home of Cardinal Gibbons. He came to Wilmington in 1868, after having been raised to the heirarchy in Baltimore as Bishop of North Carolina, and during his years of residence in this city and his work throughout North Carolina, he won the deep affection of Protestants and Catholics alike. No man was ever more lovable and more beloved than the Bishop, who was later to become the ruling Prince of the Church in America. He was Bishop, priest and citizen, a man of the noblest type, and there was none so lowly that he was not his true friend, adviser and helper. How warm and generous has always been his reception when on several occasions he has visited the scene of his early work, and equally delighted has always been his eminence in meeting and calling by their given names those who knew him intimately while he was a Wilmingtonian.

No biography of Cardinal Gibbons would be complete did it not contain in its earliest chapters a sketch of his work in Wilmington. So it is that his entertaining biographer has included in his book a specially interesting sketch of the Cardinal's first arrival in our city, an account of his work in North Carolina, and numerous instances that recall both his residence and the troublous local history of 1868, right in the midst of the post-bellum and reconstruction era. That portion of his biography will be of peculiar interest for all North Carolinians, and certainly it makes one of the most notable features of the book.

The book is published by the John Murphy Company, of Baltimore, and it is in one volume of 430 pages. It contains 17 full page engravings, including the Cardinal's portrait and a picture of St. Thomas' Pro-Cathedral, of Wilmington. There are three styles of binding—buckram, half morocco and cardinal red morocco, the prices being net, respectively, $2, $3.50 and $5.00. The publishers can be addressed for copies, and it is unnecessary to say that it will be in demand throughout North Carolina.

The French have taken to making good whiskey out of bananas. If that is the case, the banana growers need not take any steps to curtail their production.

CURRENT COMMENT.

President Taft in his Chicago speech admits the possibility of defeat next year for the Republican party. "Practical politicians," will shake their heads at this amazing frankness but it will probably not injure him with the people. They can hear insincere partisan bragging any time.—New York World.

President Taft's admission in a speech at Chicago yesterday that his party might be defeated caused a shock to Republicans there. They attributed what they regarded as "a bad break" to his fatigue, but others who have watched Mr. Taft's political career, will put it down to too much honesty and guilelessness to make a politician.—Richmond Journal, November 1.

The building of that improved highway between this city and High Point will be productive of much benefit to both communities. It is to be hoped that the amount of the subscriptions to the fund for this purpose will be sent in at once so that work on the road may be commenced at the earliest possible moment and while the weather is favorable for such work.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

Writing to The State the other day a member of the Farmers' Union of South Carolina reported that the North Carolina Farmers' Union had decided to attempt the reduction of cotton acreage by obtaining a pledge from members to reduce the acreage to 60 per cent. we think. But while the South Carolina farmer was heartily in sympathy with the proposal to reduce acreage, if he undertook to do his part he wished assurance that his neighbor would abide by his pledge. There is a great deal involved in this point and it is one that should have the earnest attention of the National officials of the Farmers' Union—and the State officials, too. In the first place, it seems to be beginning at the wrong end for the farmers of one State to pledge themselves to take certain action proposed by a State organization. The only hope of success is co-operation, united action. There are ten States growing considerable quantities of cotton and if the farmers of North Carolina cut their acreage in half the loss would be made up by an increase of 8 per cent. in Texas. It is apparent, therefore, that it is a waste of energy—and causes a loss of confidence—for a State to act alone, unless that State is Texas, which has large influence in any cotton movement.—Columbia State.

The South needs more people. She has millions of acres of fertile land untilled. She needs more laborers for farms and mills and shops. Her immense resources await a larger development that will bring riches and power. A million immigrants from Europe come to our shores each year, yet only a few thousand find their way to the most favored section. Northern cities are now congested with men and women for whom the South could find room and employment. Sturdy foreigners have helped develop the great West. They are needed now to aid in developing the greater South. Governor Crothers has invited the 15 Southern Governors to meet in this city the first week in December to consider ways and means of inducing immigration to the South. The time is ripe for this forward move. But united effort is necessary, and it is believed that at the Baltimore conference some practical plan can be worked out by which substantial results may be secured. Governors of a dozen Western States will be here at the time, and they can give their Southern brethren the benefit of their experience and advice. If the Southern newspapers will discuss the question in their columns and give their support to this conference, we can give the movement the wide publicity and insure the co-operation that are necessary for success. This is too great an opportunity to be neglected. We need more settlers; we can get them. Now is the time to turn the tide of immigration toward the Southern States.—Baltimore Sun.

WHAT A WOMAN CAN AND DID DO

Mrs. Hennessee, of McMinnville Tells How She Succeeded in Spite of Many Discouragements.

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Lucy Hennessee, of this place, says, "I suffered about six years, more or less, with womanly troubles. My head hurt so terribly that I could get no sleep.

My husband had no faith in it, but I commenced using Cardui, according to directions, and now he is thoroughly convinced that Cardui is doing me more good than all the doctors.

Before I had used all of one bottle of that wonderful medicine, I had commenced to improve. Now I feel like a different woman.

The misery is all gone, and I have a good appetite and feel greatly improved in every respect.

It will certainly benefit others as it has me, and I am glad to know that such a remedy is within the reach of every suffering woman."

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy way.

The ingredients used in Cardui are mild herbs, which have a gentle tonic effect on the womanly constitution.

It builds up the strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

If you are a woman, try it.

NAVIGATION AND PILOTAGE

Official Report of Regular Monthly Meeting of Board of Commissioners Yesterday Afternoon—Several Matters

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 1st, 1911

Regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners of Navigation and Pilotage was held today, with all the members present, as follows: Chairman James Sprunt, Vice-Chairman J. W. Harper, Commissioners H. G. Smallbones, Richard Dosher and William St. George, and Clerk L. Brown McKoy.

In response to the invitation of the board, extended at the last meeting, Captain L. H. Rand, engineer in charge of the river and harbor improvements, sat with the board, and explained most courteously the present status of the work, and answered a number of questions with respect thereto. An invitation was extended Captain Rand to attend the next monthly meeting, and to bring with him his successor in office, whom he expected by that time.

The chairman stated that he had received a call from Assistant Engineer Merritt, and also later a call from his chief, Captain Rand, after which he made some notes, in substance as follows:

"In response to our appeals, the engineers have promptly overcome the obstruction of soft mud, by dredging, and they are now affording by prompt measures, the desired relief. This condition, however, is likely to be a continual menace of deep water vessels, because we are not sure that the engineers will always be in a position to act promptly, as they have done in the past.

"Our pilots and master mariners have often advocated a straight cut from Lilliput to Brunswick Point, which would give a better bottom, a shorter distance, and easier navigation; but the engineers preferred to spend a few thousand dollars for dredging the Cove, from time to time, rather than to expend something over a hundred thousand dollars for a new, permanent and safer channel; and so the project, which was favored by Major Lucas, was never carried out.

"Moreover, there was always enough and more to do with the money made available for our river improvement, which has suffered in some years for lack of funds, because we were not placed, with more favored ports of less importance, upon a continued appropriation basis.

"In courteous and quick response to our request made two weeks ago, Captain Rand, of the engineers, has two dredges at work in Orton Cove, which will deepen the channel there from 18 to 24 feet at mean low water, with 150 feet width. This will be accomplished, probably, in a month hence; but what is of much greater importance, we learn that the engineers will probably decide upon a modified plan, which will greatly improve the navigation of our river at Orton Cove, by cutting out three of the reaches in the present curve, and extending the lower reach of Lilliput and the upper reach of Midnight, through the Orton Cove curve, thereby straightening the channel to a slight bend to the westward and avoiding the extreme curve in the Cove which is so liable to shoaling.

"We believe it is the intention of the engineers to fill in and block the old curved channel in the Cove, as fast as the Lilliput and Midnight cuts are extended; but this will depend upon contingencies. The new channel will be made 150 feet wide, by depositing the dredged material well to the eastward and forming a line of shoal which will help to keep the new channel open.

"There has been some confusion with respect to the phrasing of our last appropriation, its purpose being to use the funds for the greatest depth they would pay for; but the officially approved project seems to be for a depth of 26 feet at mean low water, and a width of 300 feet on the ocean bar, and 26 feet at mean low water and 150 feet width from Snows Marsh to Reeves Point, and 28 feet mean low water and 150 feet width from Reeves Point to Wilmington. The present project will also include the proposed cut off at Orton Cove, already referred to.

"It may be added that Snows Marsh cut is already 26 feet deep and 270 feet wide, and that there is enough money of our last appropriation to complete this project, unless unforseen difficulties arise."

The board requested the chairman to write to General Bixby, chief of engineers, at Washington, and ask particularly that he will approve the proposed straightening of Orton Cove cut, and also that he will inform the board of other matters which may have been overlooked, and which may be important, with respect to further appropriations, especially the matter of a much-needed dredging machine of the suction type, which, in the opinion of the commissioners, should be included in the next appropriation.

A communication was read from Pilot A. C. Burriss, protesting against the cancellation of the license of his pilot boat "Emma Bell," the matter having been in abeyance since the last meeting of the board, when it was ordered that the license of the "Emma Bell," in common with the licenses of several other boats, should be cancelled, unless, within ten days of the date of the last meeting (October 4th), cause should be shown why the said license should be continued. Pilot Burriss also appeared in person before the board, with his counsel, Mr. Taylor, of Southport, and it was decided by the commisisoners to continue in force the license of the "Emma Bell," subject to further action of the board.

At the last meeting of the board it was ordered that no further pilot boats would be licensed, unless the boats measured at least 30 feet in length. This ruling, however, it was claimed, would work a hardship on some pilots, who are not in position to secure boats of the dimension stated, and, upon motion of Commissioner Smallbones, it was ordered that the question be brought up at the next meeting, for further consideration; also that action upon the application of Pilot I. S. Davis, for the licensing of his boat "Lorenzo," be deferred until next meeting.

C. Ed. Taylor, Esq., also appealed to the board, in behalf of Pilots A. C. Burriss and J. S. Sellers, that they be allowed to fish, for profit, while lying on the cruising grounds waiting for ships. Action upon this matter, the different phases of which have been discussed by the commissioners repeatedly in the past, also was ordered deferred until the next meeting.

Pilot J. E. Sellers appeared before the board and explained that his failure to sign the report of the quarterly soundings committee for July was merely an oversight, as he had served with the committee and had taken part in the soundings as ordered, and that he thought his name had been signed to the report; in view of which explanation the clerk was instructed to remit the fine of $10 which had been imposed upon Pilot Sellers.

With reference to Section 17, of the Act of General Assembly, governing pilotage rates, it was ordered upon motion of Commissioner St. George, seconded by Commissioner Harper, that the rates of pilotage for all vessels seeking harbor (if they desire a pilot), shall be one-half of the regular prescribed rates, either from sea inward, or back to sea.

A communication was read from Pilots Thomas St. George, J. L. Daniels and B. F. Newton, dated October 28th, claiming that Pilot I. S. Davis boarded the steamship "Huron" illegally and not in accordance with the regulations of the board, and Pilot Thomas St. George appeared before the board in person, to support his claim and to urge further that the pilotage should not be paid to Pilot Davis. Pilot Davis was also present, with his lawyer, Mr. Taylor, as was also the master of the steamer "Huron," and after a careful investigation of the matter—it appearing that Pilot Davis was duly licensed as a pilot and that he boarded the steamer "Huron" from a properly licensed pilot boat—it was ordered by the board that Pilot Davis was entitled to the pilotage, Commissioners Harper and St. George declining to vote on the question.

A letter was received from Pilot J. A. Williams explaining his failure to report properly regarding an extension of leave of absence, and he was ordered excused.

Monthly and quarterly soundings reports were received and ordered filed; also quarterly report of the harbor master.

Commissioner Harper, alluding to the death some months ago of Pilots J. J. Thompson and T. M. Savage, called the attention of the board to the fact that the families of these pilots are in straightened circumstances, and suggested that an appropriation of $25.00 to Mrs. Savage and $15.00 to Mrs. Thompson, be made as a Thanksgiving gift from the board, in view of the long and faithful service of their husbands. The motion was seconded by Commissioner St. George and unanimously adopted by the board, and the clerk was instructed to remit the amounts to Commissioner Dosher at Southport, to be delivered by him in person to the wives of the two pilots named.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

L. BROWN McKOY,
Clerk.

HORSES AND MULES.

Big Auction Sale at Mills' Stables Tomorrow at Noon.

Attention of the public is called to the big auction sale of 100 Kentucky horses and mules at Mills' stables, this city, tomorrow at noon. The sale will take place, rain or shine, at No. 116 North Second street, and Mr. Asa Jewell, of Lexington, Ky., will be present to give the advantage of his knowledge and experience to anyone who attends the sale. The lot of horses consist of extra good, well-broken combination horses for general purposes and a few heavy work horses. The mules will be of all sizes and weights. These sales will be held monthly throughout the year and the stock will be placed on the market for the high dollar with no reserve.

HARBOR OF REFUGE

Hearing Relative to the Location to Be Held at Beaufort

Capt. L. H. Rand, United States Engineer in charge of this district, has sent to the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and probably to individuals, notice of a hearing to be held in the Court House at Beaufort, N. C., at 11 A. M., November 7th, relative to the proposed establishment of a harbor of refuge at Cape Lookout. Views of persons interested will be received at the hearing. It is understood that Southport also is making an effort to secure the harbor of refuge and the claim of that thriving little town will probably be presented at the hearing at Beaufort.

GRAY HAIR MEANS AGE

Is Your Hair Streaked With Gray—Simple Remedy Restores Color

How often one hears the expression, "She is gray and beginning to look old." It is true that gray hair usually denotes age and is always associated with age. You never hear one referred to as having gray hair and looking young.

The hair is generally the index of age. If your hair is gray, you can't blame your friends for referring to you as looking old. You can't retain a youthful appearance if you allow your hair to grow gray. Many persons of middle age jeopardize their future simply by allowing the gray hair to become manifest. If your hair has become faded or gray, try Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation which a chemist by the name of Wyeth devised a few years ago. It is simple, inexpensive and practical, and will banish the gray hairs in a few days. It is also guaranteed to remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

It is a pleasant dressing for the hair, and after using it a few days itching and dryness of the scalp entirely disappear.

Don't neglect your hair. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and you will be surprised at the quick results.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

BRIDGE OVER NORTHEAST

Bids for Building Structure Over River Near Castle Haynes Invited. Work May be Gotten Under Way Early in Year.

The people of New Hanover and Pender counties alike will rejoice to know that there is a strong probability that the work of building a modern steel bridge over the Northeast river, at a point near Castle Haynes, will be begun early in the new year and pushed to a rapid completion. The matter has been hanging fire for some years, but it now seems that the construction of the bridge is not far in the future.

Chairman Duncan McEachern, of the New Hanover Board of Commissioners, has an advertisement in this morning's Star inviting, in behalf of the joint committee of the Boards of Commissioners of the two counties, proposals for furnishing all material and labor for the construction of the bridge in accordance with the general plans and specifications on file with the committee. The bids are to be opened at noon December 6th, and publicly read. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $2,500.

The Commissioners of the two counties have not yet selected the location for the bridge. It is understood that two sites are under consideration and that the selection will depend largely upon the cost as shown by the bids submitted.

The cost of the structure will be borne by New Hanover and Pender counties, the former paying about two-thirds and the latter about one-third, being based upon the number of polls in each county.

NEW MANAGER WESTERN UNION

Mr. G. E. Wood, of Many Years Experience With Company, Takes Charge of Local Office—New Position Created

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment by the Western Union Telegraph Company of Mr. G. E. Wood, with the company at various important cities in the South and more recently with the Postal at Tampa, Fla., as manager of the Wilmington office; Mr. E. L. Spooner, as chief day operator; Mr. J. W. Murrell, as chief night operator, and Mr. R. H. Orrell, who has been chief night operator, as traffic chief, which is a new position that has been made necessary on account of the increase of business at and through the local office.

Mr. Wood, who is a genial and affable young man of wide experience with the telegraph companies, arrived yesterday and has already assumed the duties of his new position. Mr. E. T. Moore, formerly manager of the Wilmington office, but now district manager for the company for North Carolina, with headquarters in Raleigh, is here to assist Mr. Wood in familiarizing himself with the business of the office. Mr. Moore has many friends in Wilmington, who are always glad to see him and regret that his visit on this occasion is not to be prolonged. He leaves tonight for Raleigh.

Mr. Wood is a native of Massachusetts, but has been living in the South for a number of years, having been manager for the Western Union at Memphis, Tenn., and several other cities of similar size and importance, and was manager of the Tampa, Fla., office of the Postal Telegraph Company for some time, this being his most recent position. He came to Wilmington from Gainesville, Fla., where he had been spending his vacation with his wife and little daughter, who will not join him here until after Christmas. Mr. Wood is considered one of the best men in the employ of the Western Union and he and his family will be given a most cordial welcome to Wilmington.

MR. ALEX. S. MOTT PASSES.

Died at His Home Yesterday Afternoon—Funeral Today.

Friends will regret to learn of the death of Mr. Alex. A. Mott, a well known painter, which occurred at 2:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon at his residence, No. 512 Queen street. Mr. Mott was in the 61st year of his age and is survived by four children, three sons and one daughter, these being Messrs. A. L., W. S. and George D. Mott and Miss Sarah S. Mott. He was a member of the Second Advent Church and a man held in high esteem by all who knew him. The bereaved have the sympathy of a great many friends. The funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the late residence and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Mr. R. L. Whitfield Located.

Mr. R. L. Whitfield, of Delgado, who a few days ago was reported as being missing from his home since Wednesday of last week, has been located at Hamlet and he was expected to arrive here last midnight on the Seaboard train. His brother-in-law, Mr. James Hardison, received a telegram from him yesterday stating that he was at Hamlet and that he desired to return to Wilmington, but had no funds. A telegram was sent immediately advising the agent at Hamlet to issue a ticket for him and he was expected to arrive last night. No particulars were given.

Saved Many from Death

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c. or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

MASONS LAY CORNER-STONE

Solemn and Impressive Ceremonies at New Building of Church of the Good Shepherd—Large Crowd Present

With the solemn and imposing ritual of the Grand Lodge of Masons of North Carolina, represented by St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., and an interesting programme by the choir and congregation, the corner-stone of the handsome new house of worship which the Church of the Good Shepherd is erecting on corner of Sixth and Queen streets, was laid yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the ceremony being witnessed by a large gathering of members of the church and interested friends.

A number of the officers and members of the Church of the Good Shepherd, as well as several clergymen from other churches made short talks on the ceremony and its symbolical significance, and Rev. Thos. P. Noe, the rector, also made a heartfelt talk, telling of the long struggle for the new building and the tireless efforts and self-sacrifice of so many of those present, as well as some of those who have been removed by the Divine Hand, that had made the erection of the new structure possible.

The ceremonies opened with the singing of a hymn by the congregation and this was followed by a short prayer service, participated in by the rector and the congregation.

Following another hymn the rector called on Geo. Rountree, Esq., a vestryman of the mother parish, St. James' Episcopal church, who made a short talk congratulating the pastor, the building committee and the congregation on the splendid new structure in which they will soon be able to worship. Mr. Noe thanked Mr. Rountree for his kind words and stated that as the new building was a memorial to the late Dr. Armand J. DeRosset it was fitting that Mr. James H. Burriss, a member of the building committee, say a few words about the one whose tireless efforts and whose great faith, probably more than any one other one person's efforts were responsible for the new church building. Mr. Burriss paid a pretty tribute to Dr. DeRosset and closed by stating that it was fitting and proper that the new structure be a monument to his memory.

Rev. W. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, then made a speech congratulating the church on the fruition of its work and stating that it was a matter of gratification to St. John's church, as well as to the city at large, to witness the splendid growth of the Church of the Good Shepherd, and to know that it is seen to have a handsome new home.

Characterizing him as probably the best-loved minister in the city, Rev. Mr. Noe then called upon Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, for a few remarks. Dr. McClure responded and made a clever little speech of congratulation, adding that the erection of a new house of worship, no matter of what denomination, was a matter of uplift and education for any community. Dr. McClure extended to the pastor, the building committee and the congregation of the Church of the Good Shepherd the felicitations and best wishes of himself and his congregation.

The rector himself closed the speeches with a short talk, stating that it was fitting and proper to observe the laying of the corner-stone on All Saints' Day. He declared that there were four names that stood out prominently on this occasion as deserving a great part of the credit for the movement for a new structure, three of whom had been called to their Master since the movement began. The first of these, he said, was Dr. J. Armand DeRosset, the donor of the site for the building. The second of the four, and the only one now living, was Mrs. Kate DeRosset Meares, the daughter of Dr. DeRosset, who gave herself to the work with such rare devotion. Another was Sister Cecilia, who left behind her a sainted memory and an influence that still lives. The last was the late Mr. J. Hal Boatwright, who was at the time of his death superintendent of the Sunday School and who devoted nearly 40 years of unbroken service to his Church.

By the work of these people, said Mr. Noe, and their great faith, the members of the church have been inspired to carry on to its completion the movement which they started.

Following the singing of another hymn the State Grand Lodge of Masons took charge of the services and laid the corner-stone with their impressive ceremony. The Grand Lodge officials for the occasion were: M. W. Wm. B. McKoy, as Grand Master; R. W., B. A. Merritt, as Deputy Grand Master; R. W., Jas. F. Sears, as Senior Grand Warden; R. W., John S. McEachern, as Junior Grand Warden; R. W., S. F. Highsmith, as Grand Treasurer; R. W., A. S. Holden, as Grand Secretary; R. W., Rev. J. H. Foster, D. D., as Grand Chaplain; R. W., R. C. Cantwell, as Senior Grand Deacon; R. W., R. H. Pickett, as Junior Grand Deacon; R. W., Chas. H. White, as Grand Marshal; R. W., W. R. Dosher, as Grand Sword Bearer; R. W., E. P. Bailey, as Grand Architect; R. W., Stuart R. Keyes, as Grand Steward; R. W., W. A. McGirt, as Grand Steward; R. W., R. H. Bradley, as Grand Tiler; R. W., Dr. John Thames, Bearer of Three Great Lights.

Upon the conclusion of the Masonic ritual several hymns were sung and the meeting came to an end.

In the crypt of the corner-stone were placed a Bible, a hymnal, copy of the Journal of the Diocese of East Carolina for 1911, prayer book, copy of the Mission Herald for October, 1911; copy of the Morning Star for November 1, 1911; copy of Evening Dispatch for October 31, 1911; copy of programme for the day's services; picture of the new Church from the drawings; three pictures of breaking ground service; picture of the old chapel building; old prayer book presented to the donor by Sister Cecilia; a copy of the year book of St. James' containing a short sketch of the Church of the Good Shepherd; book of remembrances; copy of membership directory of Masonic Lodges, of Raleigh; copies of by-laws of St. John's, No. 1, A. F. & A. M.; Orient, No. 395, A. F. & A. M., and list of membership of Wilmington Lodge, No. 319, A. F. & A. M.

The Church of the Good Shepherd has enjoyed an independent parish organization since 1907, and under the leadership of Rev. Thos. P. Noe the rector, it has had a remarkable growth and expansion. The church has grown in numbers and influence until it now has a communicant membership of 198, with 220 confirmed persons and 420 baptized. The Sunday School numbers more than 250 and has a corps of efficient and loyal teachers.

The vestry of the Church of the Good Shepherd consists of J. H. Burriss, senior warden; J. M. Lord, junior warden; C. H. Huband, secretary; D. D. Barber, treasurer; R. S. Pridgen, E. J. Irving and Henry Willoughby. The building committee is composed of Rev. Thos. P. Noe, chairman; Messrs. James H. Burriss, Anson Alligood, D. H. Barber and S. M. Boatwright.

Washington, Nov. 1.—John T. Bivins, of Georgia, chief of the tobacco division of the internal revenue, and for nearly thirty years connected with that branch of the government service, died here today. He was 64 years old and a veteran of the Confederacy.

FUNERAL OF MR. C. C. PARKER

Body of Ex-Alderman Laid to Rest in Bellevue Cemetery

In the presence of a large concourse of friends and relatives, impressive funeral services were held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the late residence, No. 520 Wooster street, in memory of ex-Alderman C. C. Parker, whose death occurred Monday evening after an illness of some time. The sad and impressive services were conducted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. J. W. S. Harvey. There were many floral designs which bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which Mr. Parker was held in the community. Following the services at the house the body was borne to Bellevue cemetery, where the interment took place. The pall-bearers were: Mssrs. A. H. Leslie, M. J. Jackson, W. M. Dickson, J. T. Hill, A. T. Parker and Valentine Gaskill.

Mr. Parker was a member of Orion Lodge No. 67, I. O. O. F., and members of the lodge attended the services in a body. The Odd Fellows had charge of the services at the grave.

COUNCIL MEETS TODAY

Will Pass on Bid to Furnish Police Overcoats—Other Matters

Mayor Joseph D. Smith yesterday afternoon called a special meeting of the City Council to be held at 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of passing on a bid to furnish the police department overcoats and for the transaction of any other business which may be brought up. Pursuant to advertisement the lone bid received to furnish overcoats was opened yesterday at noon by Mayor Smith, who is in charge of the Department of Public Safety this week in the absence of Councilman B. C. Moore. Mr. J. W. H. Fuchs, who had the contract to furnish the uniforms for both the police and firemen, submitted the only bid for the overcoats, agreeing to furnish 26-ounce Warrenton wool mills material for $22.50 apiece. The Council will most likely award the contract to him to furnish the overcoats.

The ladies of St. Thomas' Catholic church gave a very delightful Hallowe'en party from 3:30 yesterday afternoon to 11 o'clock last night in the Knights of Columbus Hall on North Third street. While the attendance was not unusually large the young people spent a most enjoyable afternoon and evening playing Hallowe'en games, having their fortunes told and, of course, partaking of the delicious salad, sandwiches, coffee, ice cream, cake, etc., that was served. The hall was attractively decorated in an appropriate Hallowe'en scheme.

A delightful Hallowe'en party was given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. S. Vaughan, No. 125 South Eighth street. Although the weather was disagreeable the witches did not forget to come out and the event was a most enjoyable one throughout. The residence was most artisticaly decorated with pumpkins and wild flowers. The guests were met in the hall and escorted to the parlor, where at 8:30 o'clock there appeared 15 witches, represented by young ladies, and they were introduced to the young men present. A guessing contest was devised to determine the witch each young man would take out to luncheon and this proved a most delightful feature of the evening. Games were indulged in and fortunes told and at midnight a course supper was served. Altogether it was one of the most enjoyable of the several Hallowe'en parties.

PRETTY SALUDA WEDDING JOINS YOUNG PEOPLE.

Saluda, N. C., Oct. 31.—Just as the sun was setting over the peaks of the Blue Ridge mountains at half past five o'clock, on the afternoon of October 26th, the little church of the Transfiguration at Saluda, N. C., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jessie LaMotte and Mr. Charles King, both of Sumter, S. C.

The church was beautifully dressed in the Autumn foliage, and the soft candle light reflected on the crimson and gold of the Autumn leaves was a picture long to be remembered. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. H. Covington, of Sumter, and was witnessed by many friends. The groom was accompanied by his brother, Mr. James King. Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Mrs. Dr. E. M. Salley, announced the approach of the wedding party. Mrs. Francis Gault, the bride's sister as dame of honor, becomingly gowned in a beautiful salmon colored silk poplin, wearing a large picture hat and carrying white carnations, preceded the maid of honor, Miss Mildred Hall, of Sumter, who was daintily gowned in white Marquisette with large black picture hat, carried pink carnations. The bride entered on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Francis Gault, of Lake Waccamaw, N. C., and wore a beautiful tailored traveling suit of brown broadcloath with hat to match. She carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. After the impressive ceremony of the Episcopal church the bridal party left the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march. Then the merry wedding bells rang out and the happy couple left on the north-bound train for an extended trip before returning to their home at Sumter, S. C.

The popularity of Mr. and Mrs. King was evidenced by the value and beauty of their numerous presents.

..Theatrical..

"The Country Boy," one of the cleverest comedies that ever played Wilmington, was the attraction at the Acadamey of Music last night, and was witnessed by a fair-sized audience. With a plot that is true to life and a theme that lies close to the heart, the show not only amuses but at the same time teaches a wholesome moral.

Dealing with the boy from the small town who goes to New York to make his fortune, becomes infatuated with a chorus girl and loses everything but a remnant of his self-respect, his return home and his ultimate success, financially and morally, to say nothing of winning the girl of his choice, the play holds the interest from the time the curtain goes up until the lights come on at the end of the last act. The cast was good throughout and its preesntation of the different parts was al that could be desired. The least that can be said of "The Country Boy" is that it is well worth while.

U. S. Marine Band Tonight

The Academy tonight offers its most brilliant musical event of the season in a concert to be given by the United States Marine Band, and so great has been the demand for the band upon this brief tour that the organization has to play two concerts a day—matinee in one city and an evening concert in another. Wilmington was indeed fortunate in securing one of the latter.

Seats went on sale for the concert yesterday at Plummer's and the scale is unusually small. All seats downstairs and the first two rows in the balcony are $1. Box seats only are $1.50.

The Charlotte Observer recently said of the great National musical organization:

"The audience that heard the unusually excellent concert rendered by the United States Marine Band at the Academy of Music last night certainly could not complain of lack of variety in the good things offered for their delectation. Lieut. William H. Santelmann and his musicians covered, in spots, the whole range of musical literature from Richard Wagner to the latest rag-time and although at times the juxtaposition of the classics with the ephemeral compositions of the present year was a little startling, in one and all the band proved its worthiness of the high official position its holds.

"There is one advantage about so varied, not to say variegated programme as last night's—no auditor who cares anything about any sort of music whatever can fail to have his taste met at some time during the entertainment. And it is just as well, perhaps, to realize that the lighter numbers can be made into quite pleasing music when interpreted with spirit and understanding.

"The Marine Band got furtherest into its audience's heart in an encore made up of a fantasy of 'Sewanee River' and 'Dixie,' played in rather fast time and with great spirit. Again at the close, when 'La Paloma' was followed by Sousa's 'Semper Fidelis,' the marine corps' official march, and this in turn by 'The Star Spangled Banner,' the audience gave the musicians a generous ovation.

"Possibly the greatest musical effect was attained in the wonderful 'Second Hungarian Rhapsody' of Liszt,' a somewhat unusual number for a military band. This was rendered with tremendous rhythm and swing, tapering on in places to the weird sweetness and appeal which every piano graduate loves. Two Wagnerian numbers—the 'Rienzi Overture' and 'Selections from Lohengrin'—gave Lieutenant Santelmann an opportunity to display an ease in the heavier score quite equal to that one expects in lighter music. The Rienzi number was remarkable for its beautiful tonal contrasts, while the Lohengrin score was heart-stirring throughout, full justice being done the majestic Holy Grail motif.

"In the peculiarly sweet and appealing 'Sextette from Lucia' and in the ever-welcome 'Traumerei' rendered as the initial encore, the depth and feeling of the band as an organization and its flawless ensemble work was noticeable. In lighter vein a 'Waltz' of Durand and Santelmann's own caprice, 'Heart's Message,' emphasized these same points.

"The Marine Band has a number of finished soloists, their work as a whole being well brought out in the 'Lucia' selection but especial mention should be made of Arthur S. Witcomb, cornet, and George Frey, euphonium. The former after playing 'Reve d'Amour,' most beautifully, rendered 'My Hero' from 'The Chocolate Soldier' with great feeling and somewhat later in response to insistent encores 'Every Little Movement,' from 'Madame Sherry.' The latter electrified a large portion of his hearers by selecting 'Alexander's Rag-Time Band' as his encore and it goes without saying that this modern classic received most characteristic treatment."

Matinee and Night Saturday

The attraction at the Academy of Music next Saturday is A. G. Delamater and William Norris, Inc. Original Studebaker Theatre, Chicago, production of George Barr McCutcheon's most popular and best selling novel "Beverly" as dramatized from the novel "Beverly of Graustark," by Robert M. Baker. In the play the lines of the book have been very closely followed by the author, and the result is an almost perfect dramatization of a most fascinating story. No expense has been spared by the producers as to cast or scenic equipment which add materially in the delightful presentation of the play. There will be a special big bargain matinee for ladies and children at 3 P. M.

"The Rosary"

"The Rosary," the play which was the talk of the country last season, is repeating this season. This successful play of Edward E. Rose's which is founded upon an emblem of purity, is a tale of everyday life in which the good is exalted over the evil, showing the principal character of a Catholic priest as the modern day finds him. It is through the priest that a misunderstanding in the Wilton family is correctly adjusted and the misery and estrangement cleared up. Intermingled with the valuable moral effects of the show is a beautiful love story, and also an abundance of comedy that the average theatre-goer doesn't expect to witness owing to the title of the play. "The Rosary" with the entire staging that Rowland and Clifford have so handsomely given the play, will be seen at the Academy next Wednesday, November 8th, at matinee and night.

At The Grand.

Today the Grand Theatre will have among its regular series of three high class motion pictures one of the best comedies ever projected on the canvas. The title is "Kittie and the Cowboys" and that is sufficient to conjure up in the mind of the imaginative, all sorts of situations and climaxes that will abundantly amuse. It is a Vitagraph of the wild Western type and has to do with "Fatty" Bunny, who takes everything in fun. Then he has a whole lot of fun himself and the spectators have the same in watching his antics upon the screen. Another great picture is an Edison film of "The King From the Klondyke," beautiful in scenery and bewitching in its theme. It is also a comedy and is described as a laugh from start to finish. There will also be still another high-class picture and the performances will be both afternoon and night at the still small prices of admission.

At The Bijou.

Each day but adds to the glory of the Bijou. Each day but records fresh artistic triumphs for this popular amusement place, which is mainly popular, of course, by reason of its big shows, but secondarily on account of the "solid comfort" it offers those who frequent it. Yesterday's bill was a "peach" and delighted all. Today's bill is going to be a repetition so far as merit goes, and amusement lovers who want to get in on the ground floor of joy should be certain to attend one of the Bijou's performances today. The afternoon performances are the same, being just as large and presented with just as much care, as are the ones at night. In fact, the Bijou is the mecca for ladies and children in the afternoons.

Quiet Marriage Tuesday.

Mr. Charles Hopkins and Mrs. Sophie Daniels, both of this city, were married at the parsonage of Fifth Street Methodist church Tuesday evening, Rev. G. T. Adams, the pastor, officiating. The ceremony was a very quiet affair and only the requisite number of friends were present.

ROBERT BLACK NOT GUILTY.

McMillan Testifies He is Not Man Who Shot Him—Other Cases.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Robert Black, the negro arrested Sunday morning on a charge of shooting John McMillan, colored, was tried on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon and found not guilty. McMillan himself was in court and testified that Black was not the man who shot him. Black was also tried on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon and in this, too, he came clear. McMillan has sufficiently recovered from his wound to be out.

One witness testified that he saw Black with a pistol and another testified that the man was in the locality at the time of the shooting. When the officers searched Black following his arrest they found on his person a number of 38-calibre pistol cartridges but no revolver. The wound in McMillan's neck was made by a 38-calibre bullet. Prosecuting Attorney Geo. L. Peschau stated that the whole affair was very mysterious.

James Whitfield, colored, for the larceny of six caddies of chewing tobacco from the Atlantic Coast Line freight yards, was found guilty and sentenced to six months on the county roads. Judgment was suspended against him on a charge of drunkenness.

Frank Tesh, a negro, was fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. "Bill" Cannon, colored, was found not guilty of an assault on a female, but was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. William Mallett, colored, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Adolphus Williams, also colored, was found not guilty. A nol pros with leave was taken in the case charging William Scott, colored, with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Janie Teachey, colored.

One drunk was disposed of in the usual manner. The session was presided over by Substitute Recorder George Harriss.

Funeral of Mrs. Brindell

The funeral of Mrs. Josephine E. Brindell, whose death occurred Tuesday morning, was held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence, No. 922 South Sixth street, in the presence of quite a number of relatives and friends. Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church, conducted the services. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, and the pall-bearers were: Messrs. I. A. Hines, Ben Crumpler, Carl Strunck and Decatur Costin.

Coffee Goodness Proven by a Century of Use

There is something wonderfully satisfying and fascinating about this coffee blend that has been in daily use for over a century. Something far different from ordinary coffees. This is the coffee that was served in the quaint French Market, New Orleans, to society belles and beaux of the olden time. And that was so liked by Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and other famous men. It is today the same identical, deliciously aromatic blend that was famous over a hundred years ago.

Then you could get this coffee with a history—the real

EARLY ADVANCE IN COTTON

In Response to Steady Cables and Cold Weather News—The Port Receipts Were Much Lighter—58,316 Bales

New York, November 1.—After an early sharp advance in response to steady cables and cold weather news from the Western belt, the cotton market turned quieter and gradually worked off a little under big crop estimates, closing steady at an advance of 5@9 points, but from 3 to 8 points under the best prices of the day.

The market opened steady, at a general advance of 3 to 10 points, and made further gains of about 9 points on near months and 3 to 4 points on later positions. The buying was quite active at times, particularly by Liverpool, the South and Wall Street, but on every advance above the nine-cent level, for January seemed to meet liberal pressure. Part of this selling was based on rumors that the National Ginners' preliminary returns indicated a ginning to October 31 of over 9,800,000 bales, although this was denied. A prominent New Orleans authority estimated the crop at 15,100,000 bales minimum and a private estimate as high as 16,000,000 was wired from Memphis. The Western belt forecast indicated freezing temperatures on Thursday, with prospects for still colder weather on the way from the Northwest, where zero temperatures were noted.

Reports from China said that the native money market had been much affected by the revolution and that prospects for the cotton goods business were poor. A good demand existed for high grades of cotton in the interior, according to advices received here, but grades for middling and below showed weakness, with accumulations very large. It was again a matter of comment here that notwithstanding a huge short interest bears seemed able to cover large quantities of cotton on a comparatively small advance.

The port receipts were much lighter today, due to the fact that the end of the month shipments had been filled. A local crop authority was out with a statement that 75 per cent. of the crop had been picked, that frost was not likely to injure cotton, and that the South was holding more freely.

Receipts at the ports today, 58,316 bales, against 73,551 last week, and 53,653 last year.

Spot, dull. Middling uplands, 9.40; do. gulf, 9.65; sales, 200 bales.

Futures closed steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, November 1.—Active buying continued at the auction sale of carpets during the day, and prices held up well. It was announced that the Page mill, of New Bedford, 1,800 looms, will stop for an indefinite period, beginning Monday, November 6th, owing to dull trade in the fine cotton goods markets. Cotton goods are being bought in moderate quantities, at easing prices.

Balked at Cold Steel

"I wouldn't let a doctor cut my foot off," said H. D. Ely, Bantam, Ohio, "although a horrible ulcer had been the plague of my life for four years. Instead, I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and my foot was soon completely cured." Heals burns, boils, bruises, eczema, pimples, corns. Surest pile cure, 25c. at R. R. Bellamy's

UPWARD MOVEMENT IN STOCKS

Buying Was Aggressive Throughout. United States Steel Rose Nearly Four Points—Total Sales $4,640,000.

New York, November 1.—It has been many weeks since Wall Street has witnessed an upward movement in stocks which parallels that of today. Beginning with the stroke of the gong which signalled the opening of the market, stocks were carried forward steadily to the end of the day. The buying was aggressive throughout. United States Steel rose nearly 4 points, to 58¾, passing above the figure at which it closed last Thursday, before filing of the government suit broke the price to 50. Lehigh Valley and American Smelting each gained 4 points, Canadian Pacific 3⅜, Reading 3, and Union Pacific 2¾. The upward movement was ascribed generally to heavy buying for the long account, owing to the unexpectedly good quarterly report of United States Steel and the government's attitude toward the American Tobacco reorganization plan. A secondary cause of the advance was the scramble of the short interest to cover contracts. The demand from this source was unusually extensive, but in itself was not sufficient to account for the course of prices. The United States Steel report indicated to the minds of many traders that the industrial situation was not as bad as it had been represented. The prospect of a peaceful solution of the Tobacco Company's difficulties was seized upon as showing that the position of corporations under the Sherman law was less precarious than had been imagined. The combined effort of these two influences was to change speculative sentiment considerably.

An important development of the week as regards the United States Steel Corporation was a change in the attitude of the railroads, which indicated that they have nearly reached the limit of the postponement of equipment buying. Semi-official statements were to the effect that new orders of the United States Steel Corporation last month were larger than was expected a fortnight ago, probably ranging around 35,000 tons daily.

The September report of the New York Central system helped to improve sentiment. The increase in net revenues of $1,363,000 was unexpectedly large. The Pennsylvania system on the other hand reported a shrinkage in net revenue of more than $700,000. The strength of Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie was explained by its showing of an increase of $340,000 in operating income last month. Call money touched 3 per cent. today for the first time since January 19. The advance in rates was due to the requirements for November interest and dividend disbursements, and the temporary retirement of many banks from the market. Bonds exhibited decided firmness today in line with the improvement in stocks. Total sales, $4,640,000. Total sales of stocks, 910,100 shares.

Downward Course

Fast Being Realized by Wilmington People

A little backache at first.

Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak.

Urinary disorders quickly follow.

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Wilmington citizen.

Miss Maggie Rivenbark, 105 Dock street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are welcome to continue the use of my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they gave me lasting benefit. I value this remedy highly in return for what it did for me. There was a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills which were procured at Bellamy's Drug Store. They proved to be just what I required and it did not take them long to make me well."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Remedy Tested for 30 Years — Cures Through the Blood—Foul Breath, H'hawking and Spitting Done Away With by Its Use.

Hawking, Spitting, Foul Breath, discharges of yellow matter, permanently cured by taking internally Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.). Thousands of sufferers have tried B. B. B. where all else failed, and were cured to stay cured.

CATARRH IS NOT ONLY DANGEROUS, but it causes ulcerations, death and decay of bones, kills ambition and often causes loss of appetite, and reaches to general debility, idiocy and insanity. It needs attention at once. Cure it by taking Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.). It is a quick, radical, permanent cure, because it rids the system of the poison germs that cause catarrh. At the same time, Blood Balm (B. B. B.) purifies the blood, does away with every symptom of catarrh. B. B. B. sends a tingling flood of warm, rich, pure blood direct to the paralyzed nerves and parts affected by catarrhal poison, giving warmth and strength just where it is needed, and in this way making a perfect, lasting cure of catarrh in all its forms. DRUGGISTS or by express, $1 PER LARGE BOTTLE, with directions for home cure. SAMPLES SENT FREE by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe your trouble and free medical advice given.

PICTURE CASE.

...earing at Durham—Pow... is Turned Out.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

...d, N. C., Nov. 1.—Mr. O. H. ...on, proprietor of the Arcade ...e, was yesterday tried and con... in the recorder's court on the ...ge of showing immoral and inde... ...t pictures of Beulah Binford. He ...as fined $1.00 and costs, which am...unted to about $25. The operator, who had also been arrested, was dismissed without fine or costs. Officers Wren and Wilson, of Richmond, were brought here to testify as to the Binford girl, and they said that the girl was known everywhere as the worst walking creature and that she would not be allowed to come back to Richmond.

The court declined the offer of the defendant to see the picture at his theatre free of charge. One member of the board of aldermen declared that the pictures in themselves were not immoral, but that he did think that they would be moral to the man who went there to find immoral things. Attorney Bramham, who appeared for the defendant, and he said that other shows that had appeared at the Academy of Music (which is owned by the city), were indeed worse than the Binford pictures, and he cited "Madame X", "Paid in Full, "The Girl in the Taxi," as examples. Judge Sykes, in handing down his opinion, took much the same view of the matter as did the alderman that was examined. He declared that the reputation of the Binford woman could not be separated from the pictures, and said that he had seen the evil effects of the pictures though they had never been exhibited here. Mr. Wilkerson came out in a column of explanation in the afternoon paper yesterday, and while not apologizing, he asked the continuance of the patronage of the people of Durham. He also carried a half page ad announcing that a per cent. of the salary of the performers would be given to defray the expenses of the Binford incident.

Juice from the Great Falls and Rocky Creek stations of the Southern Power Company was turned on in Durham last Monday, and is now flowing into the plant of the Golden Belt Manufacturing Company. The power comes a distance of 202 miles, the longest electric current in the world. The power is transmitted at very high voltage, because of the fact that it is estimated that fully 10 per cent. of the voltage will be lost in transit. The Golden Belt Manufacturing Company is one of the best known manufacturing plants in this city. It operates 26,496 spindles and 640 looms and the company is capitalized at $700,000. Mr. T. B. Fuller is president. It is expected that everything will be in readiness for trying with the big Erwin Mills within the next two weeks.

KNOW HER FATE TODAY

Jury in McRee Case Will Be Charged This Morning

Opelousas, La., Nov. 1.—Barring a disagreement on the part of the jurors, Mrs. Zee Runge-McRee, on trial on the alleged charge of having murdered young Allan Garland on the morning of September 21st, will know her fate tomorrow.

Judge Pavy announced tonight that he would charge the jury immediately after the convening of court tomorrw morning and the jury would then begin consedariton of the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Attorney E. B. DuBission, acting prosecuting attorney, closed the argument late tonight for the prosecution, following the addresses to the jury of Judge E. G. Hunter, for the defense, and E. P. Veazie, for the prosecution.

Attorney Veazie made a dramatic appeal to the jury for justice, according to the Louisiana laws and Biblical mandates and excoriated the accused in terms of ridicule and stinging sarcasm. He ended his remarks with a bitter denunciation which seemed to affect Mrs. McRee and her friends more than anything that has been said during the trial. Many exceptions were taken by the attorneys for the defense to statements made before the jury by the attorney.

The illness of Juror James M. Smith called a sudden halt in the trial tonight. He was stricken when Judge E. D. Hunter closed his argument for the defense and court immediately adjourned until 10 A. M. tomorrow.

Acting District Attorney E. B. DuBisson will begin the closing argument for the proseiution immediately upon the convening of court tomorrow providing Juror Smith has sufficiently recovered.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Two Men Who Participated in Lynching of ix Negroes in Florida.

Lake City, Fla., November 1. — Charged with participating in the lynching of six negroes here on May 21st, last, Samuel Ward and John Atkinson, of Tallahassee, were indicted today for murder.

A reward of $5,000 had been offered by the State for the apprehension of the persons who took part in the lynching.

The negroes who were lynched had been arrested in Leon county on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder of Deputy Sheriff B. B. Smith. Early in the morning of May 21 a mob broke into the jail and hanged the six.

HODGIN EXONERATED.

Guilford County Mystery That is a Mystery Still.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 1.—After a hearing extending from 10 o'clock in the morning until midnight, Ed Hodgin, a white man and farmer of Jamestown, was yesterday exonerated of any connection with the death of John Lovett, whose dead body was found on the railroad track between Jamestown and High Point on the morning of October 19th. The preliminary hearing was before Justices of the Peace Sechrest and Beeson, of High Point, and was more in the nature of a regular court trial than a preliminary one. For the defense and prosecution 51 witnesses were called, the State's evidence being entirely of a circumstantial nature, while the defense's principal effort was to impress the presiding magistrates with the State's inability to show a motive for the crime.

The body of John Lovett, who had established a reputation for his varied eccentricities, was found 10 days ago on the tracks of the Southern Railway near Jamestown. The absence of blood spots of clots on the body or near the scene, coupled with the unnatural position of the body and nature of the wounds, led to immediate suspicion that his death was the result of foul play and Hodgin soon fell under suspicion. He was arrested Saturday and at the time admitted having been with Lovett up to 3 o'clock on the day of the tragedy is supposed to have occurred. Very few believe that Lovett was killed by a train and citizens of Jamestown openly declare that the matter will be brought to the attention of the grand jury at the December term of Superior Court.

This is the second murder of a very mysterious nature that has occurred in the Jamestown community within the past six months, the other having been last Summer when Mrs. Ida Hill was found dead in her room from strangulation. The officers have been unable to solve the Hill mystery and now the Lovett affair promises to be even more baffling.

NO JURY SELECTED YET.

Counsel for the State in McNamara Trial Say it Will be Months.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 1.—Today, with 13 months to a day elapsed since the 21 persons lost their lives in an explosion and fire which wrecked the Los Angeles Times building, hardly the beginning of a jury had been obtained in the trial of James B. McNamara, accused of having caused the death of Charles J. Haggerty, one of the victims. Counsel for the State estimated that two months hence a jury may have been obtained.

Today's results were exactly nothing at all so far as obtaining additional talesmen accepted for cause was concerned. At the beginning of the session District Attorney Fredericks withdrew opposition to a challenge by the defense, on one talesman; the examination of another, who is nearly certain will not reach the jury, occupied most of the day, and two others were released just before the close of court on consent of opposing counsel and the other because of opposition to the death penalty.

Nine talesmen, accepted as to cause when court opened, had not been increased at the close of the session. Of these perhaps two or three will be on the jury as it is sworn.

Ten veniremen were selected for examination out of a new venire—the third thus far—of 40 men, summoned yesterday.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 1.—Before a general court martial board named by the governor, privates of the Fourth Regiment Virginia Volunteers explained why they did not attend the annual encampment at Culpepper last Summer. Several of them stated that their employers threatened to discharge them if they remained away from work the ten days they were required to remain in camp.

Norton, Va., Nov. 1.—At a cost of $23,350 the board of supervisors of Wise county, today awarded a contract to the Roanoke Bridge Company, for the construction of 26 bridges in the county. This award was made in connection with the good roads building for which $700,000 is being spent.

Chehalus, Wash., Nov. 1.—Fire which destroyed the powder factory of the Imperial Powder Company here late today caused seven young women employed in the factory to lose their lives and eight probably will die. Only two girls escaped, although a dozen men were unhurt.

If these things are the deepest needs of the human soul, and they are satisfied only in Jesus Christ, the question naturally arises, what are the conditions on our part of receiving satisfaction. The condition is faith. We some times think that if we could only see Jesus as those men of old did, if we could only look into His sympathetic eye and feel the grasp of His strong, loving hand; if we could only hear from His own human lips these words of assurance we would be satisfied. The vision of faith often seems to us so unreal. But is the vision of faith unreal? Is not faith the highest activity of which we are capable? When every other human effort has failed to satisfy the soul, does not the act of faith bring to us the assurance for which we long? It seems strange that men are so reluctant to exercise faith in Jesus. We do everything else by faith. We can understand very little of even the simplest things of everyday life from experience. We can not understand all the processes through which our food must pass in order to build up bone, muscle and blood, and yet no hungry man refuses to eat bread. Life as it is revealed in the smallest act of God's creation baffles the wisdom of the greatest philosopher.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Col. Pearsall Writes of Peanuts and Things---The Pickers

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Nov. 1.—Peanut picking time is here and the International Harvester men have "got busy" selling pickers, no less than seven have been contracted for and sold in this immediate community. The crop will evidently be short and numbers of farmers are allowing their fattening hogs to harvest the crop, thus saving labor and enriching their land by vines being rooted in the soil. The price of cotton is so discouraging, more attention will be paid to hog-raising. One of our good farmers, Mr. R. S. Futch, has a new barn packed full of corn, plenty of long forage, a chufa field full of hogs now fatter than many of his neighbors' hogs will be in December, and the peanut field yet to run on. The healtiest berry prospect, more sweet potatoes than he can well house. Short prices on cotton don t hurt him much.

By the time another season rolls around the machine cotton picker will be in the field and the farmer with his sulky plow, cotton, corn and peanut planters, potato digger, can mount them under canopy, "hoe his own row" and take life easy. The county schools are all open with happy children and smiling "school marms." The hookworm expert is abroad in the land and soon all, poor, pale, dirt-eating kids will be looking rosy as posey. E. D. P.

GREENSBORO BANKS.

Consolidation Into One Great Institution — Federal Court.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., November 1.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Commercial National Bank of Greensboro a resolution of the directors providing for a consolidation of the bank with the American Exchange was ratified by unanimous vote. E. J. Stafford was elected president, pending the actual consolidation of the institutions November 15th. He succeeds the late F. B. Ricks. When the Commercial National and the American Exchange consolidate Greensboro will have one of the largest and strongest banks in the State.

Judge Boys in United States District Court has required $500 bond of Vance Garrett for appearance at the next term of court on a charge of attempting to intimidate a witness named Wood at the time W. O. Goley and others were being tried for violating the revenue laws. Wood testified that Garrett approached him after the trial and made a violent verbal assault and threatened to do him bodily harm in the event the witness gave evidence against the defendants. Judge Boyd referred to the fact that the alleged offense was committed on the government premises and that the case should be presented to a jury.

GOV. WILSON SPEAKS

Flayed the "Bosses" of Atlantic City in Speech Given There

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 1.—Governor Woodrow Wilson in a speech here tonight flayed the "bosses" of Atlantic City, saying that he would see to it that "nothing must be omitted which will clear our politics of those who debauch them."

Among otner things the governor said:

"Atlantic City is famous all over the United States and for a greater part of the world for its charms and its shame. The whole continent looks with pity on Atlantic City because you have submitted to bossism. You have stood cowed and submissive and let it exist."

He referred to the men responsible for the "bossism" of the city and State as "lawless plunderers."

In conclusion he said:

"You have men of unimpeachable life, of honor-established reputation; big and honorable business men of pure private and pure life crowding the streets of Atlantic City and county, all of them walking like driven sheep under the grip of the management of a little group of men from whose domination they could escape with but the slightest assertion of independence. A handful of men against a population; a body of crooks against a great self-respecting population. The thing is incredible.

"The truth is a terrible whip. Only draw the whip from under your coat and see the dogs slink."

HOW TO TREAT
OLD SORES

The proper way—the only successful way— to treat an old sore is to destroy its source. Not by dangerous surgical operations or irritating, "drawing" plasters, but by Nature's true method of purifying the blood and filling the circulation with rich, nourishing properties; then the cure will be natural and lasting. We can easily understand how impurities in the blood will infect some weak point on our bodies, and by continually discharging impurities into it keep the place open and inflamed until a chronic ulcer is formed. Nothing then is so sure to produce a cure of these old sores as S. S. S. This medicine is Nature's perfect blood remedy, composed of the most healing and at the same time the most penetrating and blood-purifying properties. It removes every particle of impurity or morbid matter from the circulation, and assists nature in the increasing of healthful, nutritious corpuscles in the blood. S. S. S. makes pure blood, and pure blood is Nature's unfailing cure for old sores. Every sufferer with an old sore should use S. S. S., because it is the remedy they most need. Book on Sores and Ulcers and medical advice free. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—A. M. Fitzgerald and George B. Gillespie, of Springfield, who acted as counsel for former State Senator D. W. Holtslaw, today told the committee of United States Senators investigating the Lorimer case that Holtlaw's confession of corruption was made without pressure, suggestion or intimidation of any character. Counsel for Mr. Lorimer failed in efforts to show that either attorney was actuated in the matter by other than by proper motives.

LOOK AHEAD

One dollar a week deposited in our savings bank for 20 years will amount to about $1,400.00. A deposit of $5 a week will amount to about $7,000. The annual interest on this at 4 per cent. would be $310. Thus the man who deposits $5 a week in our bank can after 20 years draw out $5 a week and still leave to his wife and children at his death all the money he deposited and more.
